YOUTH KILLED BY BUSCH'S AUTO AS BRIDE IS WAITING

Brewer and Private Secretary, Who Were in the Car When Tragedy Took Place, Declare They Were Making Less Than Eight Miles an Hour.

VICTIM THROWN 20 FEET, SAYS WITNESS

Asserts Machine Ran Far Before It Was Stopped, Striking Prostrate Body—Busch Is to Provide for Young Widow.

Charles Dittmar picked up his dying son, Harry, from the street, clasped him to his bosom and kissed him after the young man had been run down and fatally injured by August A. Busch's automobile, in which Busch, vice-president of the Anheuser-Busch Brewing Association, was riding.

A few blocks away, Dittmar's bride of a year, who had kissed him goodby only a short time before, vainly awaited his home-coming.

With Busch in the automobile when the accident occurred, at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, were his private secretary, Edward C. Husemeyer, and his chauffeur, George J. Thorpe. The chauffeur was arrested and released on a common law bond to appear at the inquest Saturday.

Dittmar was crossing from the west to the east side of Broadway at Russell avenue. The automobile was going south on the west side of the street and a Broadway trolley car was going north. Dittmar ran to get across the street ahead of the trolley car and was struck by the automobile.

Story of an Eyewitness.

Frank Pallozolo, proprietor of a fruit store at 2116 South Broadway, says he was an eyewitness. His account of the accident, told to a Post-Dispatch reporter, is as follows:

"Dittmar came out of a nickelodeon at No. 2123 and walked diagonally to the south, across the sidewalk, until he was in front of 2127 and about twenty feet north of the curb line of Ann avenue. Just after Dittmar stepped from the sidewalk to the street he hurried to get across the street in front of a northbound trolley car.

"The automobile, going south on the right side of the street, struck Dittmar and hurled him through the air for 20 feet. He fell directly in the path of the automobile and about opposite the center of the north sidewalk of Ann avenue, so that he lay six feet west of the southbound car track and less than four feet north of the northwest corner of Broadway and Ann avenue.

"The chauffeur either could not or did not try to stop the machine. After hurling Dittmar 20 feet ahead the machine covered the distance and ran over him, and it was not stopped until it was on the south side of Ann avenue, about eighty or eighty-five feet from where Dittmar was struck. The machine was going very fast."

Lamp Broken and Twisted.

The headlights on the automobile were of a special make and of extra strength. They were made of cast brass and were supported by rolled steel brackets one-half inch thick. This is the type of lamp guaranteed to withstand collisions at ordinary speed.

The right-hand lamp's glass was broken and the lamp itself was bent and twisted. The heavy steel supporting bracket was broken.

Thorpe says that he was unable to stop the machine in time to avoid striking Dittmar, but he denies that he was going fast. Busch and Husemeyer say that the machine was going only eight miles an hour.

Charles Dittmar did not see Harry struck by the automobile, but when he saw a crowd gather he ran out of his plumbing shop at 2114 South Broadway and found that the injured man was his son.

"From the difficulty with which the chauffeur stopped the machine after it hit my boy I am convinced that it was going much faster than eight miles an hour," said the father.

Goes Home on a Car.

After stepping out of his automobile to learn how badly Dittmar was injured August A. Busch proceeded to his home at 2 Busch place on a trolley car.

When Busch learned that Dittmar was married he said that he would make arrangements for the support of the young widow and see that she should not want for anything.

Mrs. Dittmar, until her marriage at Belleville, was Miss Mamie Gregory of 2118 South Eighth street. She and Dittmar fitted up the home where she now lives, next door to her parents, at 2116 South Eighth street. She is prostrated.

Efforts to obtain a statement from August A. Busch were unsuccessful. At his home, 2 Busch place, it was said that the accident had been so great a shock to his nerves that he had remained awake all night and his condition was such that an interview could not be permitted.

Dittmar, in the daytime worked for his father as a plumber and in the evening was operator at the nickelodeon from which he came just before being struck by the automobile.

PADDY DEAR AND DID YOU HEAR? SHAMROCK TAX IS 60 PER CENT

Must Pay Import Duty as Flower, Not Specially Provided For in Bill.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The status of the shamrock, from the standpoint of the United States Government, has been definitely settled by the Board of United States General Appraisers here. Acting on a protest filed by New York importers, the board has decided that the shamrock must pay duty under the tariff act of 1909 at the rate of 60 per cent under that provision specifying "flowers not specially provided for."

The importers set up several claims for a reduction from the rate assessed, particularly claiming that the little tokens should pay a 35 per cent duty as "toys."

ARTICLE "THE" LEFT OFF ELECTION BALLOT FOR JUDGE

Election Commissioners Fear Complications and Hasten to Correct Error.

The word "the" was omitted from the phrase "candidates for Judge of the Supreme Court," in the official ballot certified by Secretary of State Roach to the Election Commissioners here, for use in the coming election.

Ordinarily such an omission would pass unchallenged, but with the Warner indictment in mind the commissioners took fright.

The Supreme Court reversed the conviction of former Delegate Ferd Warner for bribery because the article "the" was left out of the phrase "peace and dignity of the State."

The Commissioners hurriedly instructed the printers to correct the error.

Kills Wife, Baby and Himself.

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio, Oct. 28.—Blairus Nachoulter, aged 25, killed his wife, aged 21, and baby aged 2 years, today and then shot and killed himself.

STATE DIVORCED FROM CHURCH BY PORTUGAL DECREE

Republican Form of Government Should Be Like United States', Is Urged.

NEW DIVORCE PLANS

Law Being Formed Providing Legal Separation by Mutual Consent.

By Associated Press.

LISBON, Oct. 28.—The separation of the church and the state was announced in a decree issued by the provisional government today.

Another decree published declares for the freedom of the press.

The Government today declined the invitation to attend a memorial mass for the victims of the revolution on the ground that it desired to remain neutral in matters of religion.

The press generally favors the inauguration of a system of government with a president and cabinet similar to that in the United States in preference to the system of parliamentary government generally in vogue on the continent of Europe.

Among the measures being prepared by the Minister of Justice is a new divorce law, based, it is stated, on the principle of separation by mutual consent.

GOVERNMENT DENIES RUMOR OF AN UPRISING IN CUBA

Troops Are Hurried to the Reported Zones of Trouble, Notwithstanding.

HAVANA, Oct. 28.—Rumors of an impending uprising in Pinar del Rio and Guantanamo are current and last night detachments of troops were hurried to both points from Camp Colombia and additional forces are going forward today.

The Government officially denies the existence of trouble and explains that the troops are being distributed at Guantanamo and Pinar del Rio in order that the money spent by them at those places may assist the alleviation of the distress of the storm victims.

The suspicion is general, however, that the Government's purpose is to remove the troops under the immediate command of Major-General Pino Guerra, as no reports of distress at Guantanamo have hitherto arrived, Guantanamo having been outside the zone of the cyclone.

WHAT HE WAS NOT ROBBED OF HE SPENT; CAN'T PAY ALIMONY

Husband Had $856 Two Weeks Ago, but It Is All Gone Now.

Peter S. Stokes, demurring to Judge Lee's order that he pay his wife $35 a month pending the settlement of her divorce suit, said in court Friday:

"I haven't any ready money. I had $856 in bank, but I drew it out two weeks ago."

"Where is it?" asked the Judge.

"I gave my attorney $50, and was robbed of $250 a few nights ago at Twenty-second street and Lucas avenue. I spent the rest."

Stokes is charged in his wife's divorce petition with gambling, quarreling and neglecting her. He charges in a crossbill that she accepted the attentions of a boarder at their home, 3054 Sidney street, while he was in Boston last August. They separated after his return.

"Judicious" Advertising Is the Business Builder

The big, successful stores in St. Louis are monuments to the "judicious" use of advertising. "Judicious" advertising means advertising that is placed where all possible customers of the advertiser will see it.

This explains the record of local merchants advertising in the St. Louis papers yesterday, Thursday, which was as follows:

Post-Dispatch, 91 columns

Globe-Democrat, Republic and Times, All Added Together 83 columns

POST-DISPATCH excess over the three next best combined, 8 columns.

The advertisements in the POST-DISPATCH are read by the buying public. This is "judicious" advertising and it pays.

300 INDICTED IN FIFTH WARD FOR ELECTION FRAUD

Names of Voters Not Known at Places Given as Residences.

ALL IN 3 DISTRICTS

Grand Jury Hears That There Are 5000 Cases of False Registration.

The grand jury voted 300 indictments Friday against names appearing on the election registration books in the Third, Fourth and Fifth precincts of the new Fifth Ward.

These indictments will be placed in the hands of policemen election day and any person attempting to vote on the names will be arrested for fraudulent registration.

The 300 indictments were voted upon the testimony of Lieut. McMullen and eight special policemen, and 10 boarding house and hotel keepers that the persons whose names appeared on the books were unknown at the places from which they registered.

Was a Kinney Stronghold.

The new Fifth Ward embraces a large part of the old Fourth Ward. It has for years been one of the strongholds of Senator Thomas E. Kinney, now a candidate for Congress in the Twelfth District.

Lieut. McMullen and his investigating squad have reported that of 5000 names on the books in the central district of the city the persons cannot be found at the places from which the names are registered. Some of them have moved since the election, but the investigators believe that the greater proportion of the names are fraudulent.

The Election Commissioners announced Friday that they will hold schools of instruction for election judges and clerks in three different parts of the city, beginning Monday evening, Oct. 31, at the Assembly Hall of the Magnolia Avenue Station, Magnolia and Grand avenues.

To Meet Nov. 3.

The second meeting will be in Judge Pollard's courtroom, Tuesday evening, Nov. 3, and the final meeting in Judge Tracy's courtroom, Twelfth street and Clark avenue, Friday evening, Nov. 4.

All of the judges and clerks of election will be requested to appear at these meetings and receive instructions from the board.

The judges and clerks will receive careful instructions relative to counting votes for senatorial candidates. Under the law a Republican who wishes to vote for a Democrat for United States Senator must use a Democratic ballot, and strike off all names except the candidate for whom he wishes to vote, and write in the names of the Republican candidates.

According to a report made Friday to the Election Board by Lieut. McMullen, Earl Morford, formerly of 1927 Olive street, attempted to register fraudulently.

Morford, McMullen says, had been in St. Louis only since August. October 25 he went to the Election Comissioner's office, said that he had been out of the city Sept. 22, registration day, and asked to be put on the lists as an absentee. McMullen says the time reports at the factory where Morford was employed shows him to have been at work Sept. 22. Morford is not now in St. Louis.

INNOCENT OF DISTURBING PEACE OF HIS MULES, BUT—

Driver Is Fined for Fighting and Resisting Arrest Too Strenuously.

Judge Tracy in the Clark Avenue Police Court Friday sustained the contention of Robert Hatfield that a mule's peace cannot be disturbed.

Hatfield, a driver for the Polar Wave Ice Co., cursed his mules after putting them up in the company's stables at Sixth and Chouteau avenue Thursday. Henry C. Hoyer, his boss, discharged him. Another driver laughed and Hatfield, not seeing the joke, licked the other driver. Hoyer turned in a riot call and one policeman responded. Hatfield fled to his home at 1145 South Seventh street and entrenched himself in the basement.

Policeman Saake besieged the house and Hatfield took Saake's club from him. Hatfield admitted all this, but in extenuation he pleaded that a team of mules would try any man's patience. He was fined $10 for peace disturbance and the same amount for resisting arrest.

ARMED MADMAN IS HOLDING WIFE AND CHILDREN IN HOME

Imprisons Them for Two Days—Deputies Hesitate to Try Rescue.

GIRL GIVES ALARM

Escapes From Window and Runs to Tell Alton Police of Peril.

Frank Cichler, living on the Grafton road, four miles northwest of Alton, and said to be insane, has held his wife and four children prisoners in the house for two days at the point of a revolver. His older daughter, Annie, 14 years of age, escaped from the house by a stratagem contrived by her mother and appealed Friday morning to the police at Alton for aid.

Sheriff Jones of Madison County swore in Constable J. L. Cresswell of Alton as a deputy sheriff and instructed him to capture the madman. Cresswell spent an hour oiling his revolvers and rifles, and, having reinforced himself with a company of three other armed men, announced that the expedition would start at 10 a. m.

At 10 a. m. he decided to delay his errand until he had eaten dinner. He also was anxious to await the coming of Marshal J. H. Dalley of Upper Alton, who weighs 200 pounds.

Cichler, according to Annie, began acting queerly a few days ago, and his wife hastened to conceal a revolver which she kept in the house. Her husband searched for the weapon in every nook and cranny and finally discovered it under a mattress.

Boarded Up Windows.

He cornered Mrs. Cichler and the children and declared he would shoot them if they attempted to escape. Then he nailed boards over the windows and doors to secure the prison.

They waited in terror until nightfall, hoping that he would sleep. But he redoubled his vigilance. Mrs. Cichler dared not go to bed, fearing that she and the children would be murdered in their sleep.

She discovered Thursday that one of the windows was insecurely nailed. At night, after whispering her plan to Annie, Mrs. Cichler inveigled her husband into another room and kept his interest until the girl had time to creep through the window. She ran to a neighbor's house a half mile away and stayed all night. In the morning she went to Alton and told her story to Mrs. Sophia Demuth, police matron, who telephoned the information to Sheriff Jones.

Was in Indiana Asylum.

Cichler disappeared from home three months ago, taking with him two of his daughters, Esther, 6 years old, and Rose, 3. He left them with a relative in Chicago. A month ago he was found in Gary, Ind., where he had been confined and pronounced insane, the Alton police say.

But he grew better when he returned home and was permitted his liberty. He worked until a few days ago as a mold maker at the Illinois glass works.

The first snow of the season fell in St. Louis at noon Friday. It was not so heavy that the United Railways Co. had to get its plows out, but it was so plainly visible that there was no room for argument about it.

Alton, the home of nature wonders, came along with a snowstorm an hour earlier than the St. Louis one, the fall beginning at 11 a. m. The flurry there was a lively one, and lasted 15 minutes.

GIRL WHOSE ILLNESS IS ATTRIBUTED TO VACCINATION

GWENDOLYN BRASHEAR

WIDOW PURSUES MASHER ON AND OFF STREET CAR

Woman Weighing 92 Pounds Also Slaps Man Weighing 150.

Mrs. Ida Sigman, a widow, who weighs 92 pounds, slapped a 150-pound masher, pursued him on and off a moving street car and chased him two blocks until he took refuge in a saloon. She stood outside half an hour as a sentinel and caused his arrest when policemen arrived.

On her testimony Friday in the Dayton Street Police Court, Judge Pollard imposed a fine of $100 and costs upon Jacob Palm, a machinist, who gave his address as 2000 Olive street. He protested his innocence, declaring that Mrs. Sigman mistook him for another person.

"I got off a Page car at 2:30 p. m., Thursday, at Fifteenth street," the widow related, "and walked north to Morgan street. At the corner a man was standing. As I passed, he said: 'Hello, babe!'

Smiled at Her.

"I stopped and told him I had a good mind to turn him over to the police. He smiled at me and answered: 'You wouldn't do anything like that.'

"I was so angry that I stepped up to him and slapped him in the face. He cursed and knocked me down with his fist. I rolled into the gutter, but got up and saw him jumping upon a passing Wellston car.

"I screamed to the conductor and he rang the bell to stop the car. I jumped upon the back platform before it halted and the man jumped off. I sprang off after him. He ran south on Fifteenth street to Washington avenue and went into a saloon.

Waited for Policeman.

"I waited outside until Policemen Fogerty and Redmond passed by. They took me into the saloon, but it was so dark in there that I could not identify the masher. So we waited on the sidewalk until he came out himself under the light and then I had him arrested."

Mrs. Sigman is 30 years old and lives at 1312 North Nineteenth street.

SMOKING NOT ALLOWED ON ANY PART OF KANSAS CITY CARS

Conductors Are Told to Use Force if Necessary to Enforce the Rule.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 28.—Following the example set in other cities where smoking on street cars has been prohibited, an order, to take effect Nov. 1, forbidding smoking on cars or trailers here has been issued by the street railway company. The order followed complaints from men and women who declared that smokers abused the privilege granted them. Smoking will not be allowed on either the front or rear platform.

In the notice issued to the car men they are told to eject any person who smokes and if necessary they are to use force to comply with their instructions.

TWO HAVE DIED AND ONE IS SERIOUSLY ILL FROM TETANUS

TWO deaths have resulted from tetanus following vaccination within the last 20 days, both being of children attending kindergarten schools. Another child lies at the point of death Friday from the same cause.

Roy Schuster, 7 years old, of 1220 Pine street, was vaccinated Sept. 25. Died of tetanus Oct. 9 at the American Hospital.

William Kuntz, 7 years old, of 7818 Water street, vaccinated Sept. 30, died of tetanus Oct. 18.

Jesse McFarland, 7 years old, 4820 Leduc street, vaccinated Sept. 30, is in a critical condition at his home with slight chances for recovery.

SEVEN CHILDREN HUNGRY, MOTHER SNATCHES BREAD

Baker Has Her Arrested, but Relents When He Learns of Her Need.

Mrs. Anna Braun of 7708 Alabama avenue was without food for her seven children Thursday night, and the younger ones cried themselves to sleep hungry. The youngest is but a year old.

At 4:30 a. m. Friday Mrs. Braun threw a shawl over her head and left the house to hunt food. In the window of Michael Zwick's bakery at 7701 Virginia avenue she saw an array of freshly baked pies and cakes and loaves of bread.

Mrs. Braun opened the door, and saw Zwick wrapping some loaves of bread for a customer, while the counter was piled with other loaves of fresh bread. She thrust four loaves under her apron and fled from the shop.

Zwick sent for a policeman, who found Mrs. Braun and her children breakfasting on the bread. He took her to the Carondelet Police Station.

"I don't care. I don't care," sobbed the mother in her cell. "My children had to eat."

Capt. Pickel sent for the baker and told him of the circumstances. Her husband, inquiry showed, has been ill for weeks, and how her children had not tasted anything but scraps of food for days.

"I do not want to prosecute you," Zwick told Mrs. Braun. "I did not know you needed the bread. If you had told me and asked me for it I would have given it to you. I will give you whatever I have that you need today."

Mrs. Braun was released, and she and the baker left the station together.

LUCY SWOPE IN SANITARIUM

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Oct. 28.—Miss Lucy Lee Swope of Kansas City, who figured in the prosecution of her brother-in-law Dr. B. Clark Hyde for the murder of her uncle, Col. Thomas H. Swope, arrived at the Battle Creek Sanitarium today. She will take treatment for nervous collapse, resulting from the strain of the Hyde trial.

VACCINATED, GIRL LIES NEAR DEATH; DOCTORS DISAGREE

Dr. A. Siebert, Who Inoculated Her With the Virus, Declares She Is Suffering From Tetanus; Two Others Declare Her Illness Is Meningitis.

NO ANTITOXIN HAS BEEN ADMINISTERED

Family Physician Is Emphatic in Denouncing Practice of Compulsory Vaccination; Says He Did It Under Protest.

Three weeks after being vaccinated, Gwendolyn Brashear, 6 years old, became sick and now lies at the point of death in the Jewish Hospital. The attending physicians say she has only a slight chance to recover. Dr. A. Siebert, the family physician who vaccinated her, and attended the girl until she was taken to the hospital Thursday, declares she is suffering from tetanus and blames vaccination. Dr. W. E. Sauer, an ear specialist, and Dr. E. W. Saunders, who are attending her at the hospital, say the little girl's affliction started from ear trouble of long standing, and that no tetanus symptoms are shown. Their opinion is that she is suffering from meningitis.

Gwendolyn is the only daughter of George E. Brashear, a commercial artist, living at 5893 Page boulevard. She has been attending the kindergarten class at the Hempstead School. She was vaccinated Sept. 23, after her parents were notified that the rule of the Board of Education made vaccination compulsory in order for her to attend school.

Doctor Opposed Vaccination.

Dr. Siebert, an allopath, is supposed to vaccination. He says he obeyed the request of the parents to vaccinate the girl against his own judgment, but to give her the right to attend school. He told a Post-Dispatch reporter that he used great care, and covered the wound with a shield. He said the parents were very careful with the child and gave the wound the best of treatment.

Gwendolyn had been afflicted with bronchial and ear trouble for some time. Last summer, on the advice of Dr. Siebert, her mother took her to a Northern resort in an effort to find relief.

After she was vaccinated, Gwendolyn attended school until two weeks ago. At that time she complained of headache and earache. Dr. Siebert was called and administered remedies. Last Saturday her suffering became more severe, and Dr. Siebert diagnosed the case as meningitis. He called in Dr. Saunders, who, he says, verified the diagnosis and suggested an operation to relieve her right ear, where it was thought the disease had lodged.

Treated for Meningitis.

Dr. Sauer was called into consultation, and he performed the operation Monday at the Brashear home. Gwendolyn was relieved temporarily. Monday night the girl became delirious and Dr. Siebert again visited her. Wednesday she had a convulsion, and was in a stupor and apparently was paralyzed for two hours, and her jaws were locked, according to Dr. Siebert. He had attended her three times during the day, and Dr. Saunders also was called Wednesday night. She appeared to rally.

Another operation was decided upon, and the child was taken to the hospital Thursday. Dr. Siebert declares that he is convinced the convulsion was an unmistakable symptom of tetanus. After the girl was taken to the hospital she was placed in the care of Dr. Saunders and Dr. Sauer, who are treating her for meningitis.

Dr. Sauer told a Post-Dispatch reporter Friday that the girl had only a slight chance to recover. He said she was suffering from meningitis which extends to the brain. He said it is caused by an ear trouble which has been allowed to run too long. He declared that none of the symptoms is that of tetanus. He said the convulsion was a meningitis symptom, entirely independent of tetanus. He declared that the present illness would have resulted irrespective of the vaccination, and that the vaccine virus has nothing to do with her condition.

Positive It Is Tetanus.

George E. Brashear, father of the child, told a Post-Dispatch reporter Thursday that he believed the girl is suffering from tetanus, and that the children whose deaths have followed vaccination recently are martyrs to the cause of compulsory vaccination.

Dr. Siebert was emphatic in his declaration that the girl has tetanus, in an interview with a Post-Dispatch reporter at his office, 1007 South Jefferson avenue.

"I will never vaccinate another person," he declared. "I have vaccinated 21 children this year to enable them to go to school in obedience to the rule of the Board of

CONTRACT COSTS LACLEDE GAS CO. $98,000 A YEAR

Ready-to-Serve Agreement, Made When North American Co. Owned Its Controlling Stock, Now Is Found Obnoxious and a Suit to Annul Threatened.

SMALL CONSUMERS HAVE TO PAY IT, TOO

Laclede Company Was Like a Child Obeying the Order of Its Parent—Power Was to Have Been Supplied by Big Plant at Keokuk, Io.

The Laclede Gas Light Co. has discovered that it has been "stung" to the amount of $98,000 a year by the "ready to serve" clause of its contract with the North American Co. for electric energy from the water power plant to be erected at Keokuk, Io.

The directors of the gas company, which is not now owned by the North American, are trying to break the contract, which was made when the North American Co. controlled a majority of the gas company's stock.

Under the terms of the contract the gas company was required to pay to the North American Co. a minimum charge of $98,000 a year for 99 years whether it consumed any electricity or not.

This charge was to cover the cost of the North American Co.'s "readiness to serve." It was this same feature in the contracts of the Union Electric Light & Power Co., under the ownership of the North American Co. that caused such widespread discontent among consumers in St. Louis a few years ago.

Threatens to Go to Court.

The gas company now regards the contract with the North American Co as "obnoxious." It is threatening to go into court with a suit to annul the contract to relieve itself from the payment of the minimum charge.

One of the peculiar features of the situation is that the gas company, by a system of "fines," might escape by paying the North American Co. at least $98,000 a year, regardless of whether any electricity is served.

For the purpose of getting control of a big supply of current from the Keokuk plant the North American Co. caused to be organized in New Jersey the Mississippi River Power Distributing Co., which entered into contracts with the Keokuk company for 60,000 hydro-electric horsepower of energy.

The distributing company then made contracts with Union Electric, United Railways and Laclede Gas to take all of the current it had contracted for. These contracts were made soon after the original contract with the Keokuk concern, which was made Oct. 26, 1908.

The announcement was made when the contracts were signed that the Mississippi River Distributing Co. was owned in entirety by the North American Co., which at that time owned the railways, electric and gas plants.

A humorous feature of the predicament is that the gas company, under its former ownership, had to sign up the contract with the North American Co. It was the act of the child obeying the command of its parent.

Finds It's a Bad Contract.

Now the gas company, under another ownership, has discovered that the minimum charge of $98,000 a year is a bad thing, and is trying to squirm out of it. But the electric company, which is still owned by the North American Co., still is insisting upon its right to make a "ready to serve" charge, amounting from $1 a month to the small consumer, to many hundred dollars a month to the big consumer.

PRISONER SENTENCED TO LIFE IN 1906 IS PAROLED

Frank Brown, who was sentenced to life imprisonment with Arthur C. Viss for drugging, robbing and murdering Robert Harvey the night of Nov. 10, 1906, has been paroled by Gov. Hadley. He came to St. Louis Friday and reported at police headquarters prior to going to work for Martin J. Collins, a colonel on the Governor's staff. His parole requires that he report at regular intervals until 1915.

The murder of Harvey, an engineer from Gasconade City, Mo., was the last of a series of such crimes traced to the doors of the Ohio saloon at Seventh and Market streets. Former Excise Commissioner Mulvihill closed the place after the Harvey murder.

WHEN THE WOMEN RULE

INSTALLS EDISON DEVICE TO TRAP WIFE, BUT FAILS

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The American today prints the following story from Pittsburg, Pa.:

In a desperate effort to learn the details of the defense which his beautiful English wife means to enter to his action for divorce, on statutory grounds, Andrew W. Mellon, the millionaire banker of this city, spent thousands of dollars equipping his mansion on Forbes treet with the acoutiphone, a remarkable invention by Thomas A. Edison.

Thirteen of these instruments, each one of which will magnify a whisper 1600 times and carry it to any given point, were installed in the house by Mellon during his wife's absence and arrangements were made by the millionaire banker to have all of the conversations which his wife held, either with her attorneys or her friends, taken down in shorthand.

The servants in the house were apprised of Mellon's plans because it was impossible to install the instruments without their knowledge. The most liberal inducements were given them to keep the matter a secret, but one old servant, said to be the housekeeper, declaring that the plan was "despicable and contemptible," apprised her mistress of it, with the result that Mellon's spies were treated to some amazing conversations, not one of which will be of the slightest use in the litigation which is soon to come to a head in the courts.

When Mrs. Mellon, her attorney, Paul S. Asche and her friends tired of amusing themselves at the expense of Mellon and his agents, they took hatchets and chopped out all the carefully laid wires.

Mrs. Mellon is now in undisputed custody of the Forbes street mansion and can discuss her private affairs with her attorney and her friends without danger of her husband overhearing her.

Rheumatism

Is a Constitutional Disease

It manifests itself in local aches and pains—inflamed joints and stiff muscles—but it cannot be cured by local applications.

It requires constitutional treatment, and the best is a course of the great blood-purifying and tonic medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla, which corrects the acid condition of the blood and builds up the system.

"My father had been afflicted for years with rheumatism, kidney trouble and nervousness. He was weak and losing flesh. He then began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and is now well." Ora E. Campbell, Washington, Ind.

ALL MY PIMPLES GONE.

"I was ashamed of my face," writes Minnis Pickard of Altamahaw, N. C. "It was all full of pimples and scars, but after using D. D. D. Prescription I can say that now there is no sign of that Eczema, and that was three years ago."

D. D. D. has become so famous as a cure and instant relief in Eczema and all other serious skin diseases that its value is sometimes overlooked in clearing up rash, pimples, blackheads, and all other minor forms of skin impurities.

The fact is, that while D. D. D. is so penetrating that it strikes to the very root of Eczema or any other serious trouble, the soothing Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol and other ingredients are so carefully compounded, there is no wash for the skin made that can compare with this great household remedy for every kind of skin trouble.

D. D. D. is pleasant to use, perfectly harmless to the most delicate skin, and absolutely reliable. It should always be kept on hand. By a recent arrangement with D. D. D. laboratories of Chicago, you can now get a trial size for 25 cents. This will give you positive proof of the wonderful effectiveness of this great remedy.

RHEUMATISM CANNOT EXIST

In the human body if you will use Trunk's Prescription for Rheumatism and Gout. It is ridiculous, absurd and preposterous. In fact it is a pity and a shame to talk about rheumatism and gout, much less suffer with it, either inflammatory, muscular, sciatic or any other form of rheumatism. Trunk's Prescription for Rheumatism and Gout sells for $1.50 or six for $7.50. This prescription does not ruin the stomach, it does not depress the heart. Eat all the meat and good food you wish while taking Trunk's Prescription. It does not contain any mercury, salicylate of soda, oil of wintergreen or narcotics of any kind, but it absolutely and positively overcomes any kind of rheumatism or gout on earth. What more do you want? There is nothing just as good, and it is impossible to get something better. It is also an excellent liver medicine.

Doctor Declares Girl's Illness Is From Vaccination

Education. The vaccination system is wrong. It is a sin to follow it further. It is time to sound a warning to parents.

Denounces Vaccination.

"In Switzerland smallpox almost entirely has been overcome, yet they have abolished vaccination. The system of filling the system with vaccine virus to offset a possible later attack of smallpox is not right. It places the children in a position of having to fight a present illness to counteract a sickness they might have in the future. It is possible and entirely probable they would escape that later illness if let alone.

"I am a physician of the allopath school. It has been said that the homeopath doctors are the cause of the opposition to vaccination. That is not entirely true. Most homeopaths do not believe in vaccination. They are right in that respect. I do not believe in vaccination, and know of other allopaths who do not believe it is right. Yet we must vaccinate the children so that they may obey the rule of compulsory vaccination in schools.

"I do not believe that the serum is infected. That is not the cause of the present tetanus cases. I used a different brand of serum than that used by the Board of Health. It is not necessary to look for infection in the vaccine points.

Weather Is Responsible.

"The weather conditions of this year in St. Louis are responsible for the tetanus and the suffering from excessively sore arms this year. When the weather is extremely warm, then gets cold, then warm, and is changeable and unseasonable, it causes the systems of the body to be overworked.

"Many of the impurities of the body are thrown off by perspiration. When perspiration stops by a change in the weather, the glandular system must throw off these impurities, many of which are the tetanus germs which constantly surround us.

"With the glandular system working to the limit to accomplish this, we attack the glands with vaccination and partially paralyze them with the virus. This unables the glands to do the work required of them, and allows the tetanus germs to infect the weak points in the body. The result is tetanus."

Dr. Sauer told a Post-Dispatch reporter Friday that the operations performed were to relieve the meningitis conditions, and that no antitoxin had been administered to offset tetanus. He said that no tetanus symptoms had developed and that the use of antitoxin would not be justified.

Virus Reported Pure.

Assistant Health Commissioner Jordan said the Brashear case had not reached his attention until a Post-Dispatch reporter spoke to him of it. He sent one of his physicians out to investigate it.

City Bacteriologist Harris reported to Dr. Bond Friday, he said, that of 10 tubes of virus examined by him, all were pure and clean. Dr. Bond said he thought that if the tetanus cases among St. Louis school children were due to impure serum or bad points in vaccinating, the percentage would be much larger. Few of the 6000 or 7000 children would have escaped, he said.

He said, too, that the fact that the Brashear girl was vaccinated Sept. 28, and that her present condition did not develop until last Saturday, made it improbable that she was suffering from tetanus.

POLICE GET SIX IN A RAID MADE ON A POOLROOM

All Are Factory Employes, but a Conviction Is Not Expected.

LOOKOUT AT DOOR

Raiders Upset Him From His Stool and Capture Paraphernalia.

Six employes of the Hamilton-Brown shoe factories at Twenty-first and Locust streets were arrested when Detective Wells and two of his gambling squad swooped down on a poolroom on North Twenty-first street, where bets were being recorded in a handbook.

Hugo Summerville was recording the bets in the back room and Charles Detton, 60 years old, acted as lookout at the front door. Between them there was an electric buzzer, with which to give the alarm when the lookout's suspicion was aroused. Wells tore this up out of the floor as part of the evidence against Summerville.

Information about the book is said to have been given to the police by a foreman of the factory. Wells went with Detectives White and Stevenson to the corner at noon Thursday, and saw men entering the pool room.

Upsets the Lookout.

At a signal White stepped quickly into the door and upset the stool the elderly lookout was perched on. The others ran into the back room while White pinioned the lookout to keep him from giving the alarm.

Recording a Parlay Bet

In the rear room Wells says he found Summerville sitting at a little table recording a bet. It provided that 50 cents should be bet on Col. Ashmead, that if he won all should be staked on Capt. Swaston, and that if this horse won all was to be put on Dorante. Beside the bet were the initials L. F. D.

Leonard F. Dillingham of 3301 McCausland avenue was one of those arrested. In one of his pockets was found a slip recording this parlay bet, with his initials on it.

"That must be my father-in-law," he said, when Wells asked him about it. "I wore his coat this morning."

Among the other slips found were some bearing the initials "H. R.," "R. R.," "E. M. C." and "E. R."

The men arrested, besides those mentioned, were: Joseph Carey of 1113 Glasgow avenue, Joseph Wickey of 2755 St. Vincent street; Louis Dillingham and Charles L. Dillingham, brothers of Leonard; Robert Price of 2727 Cass avenue, and Willis Hurt, a negro, who happened into the place after the raid.

Hurt had some books containing initials and sums of money, in the form used in recording racing bets, but he said he did not know where he got them.

Wells confiscated the books and slips and some racing forms. He said Friday that he did not expect to get a conviction against Summerville, although the evidence is as complete as could be gathered anywhere.

"We have never been able to get a conviction in one of these cases," he explained, "on account of technical defense. The judges of the courts here have even held that we must prove by an eyewitness that the race on which the bet is made actually run. To prove this by newspapers and racing forms is held insufficient. We can only keep raiding the places when we find them."

The factory employes were booked as suspected of gambling and released on common-law bonds.

THEY ACTUALLY DO THE WORK

Food Eaten Is Worthless Unless Digested—Some Stomachs Must Have Help.

Food taken into the stomach which, from the nature of the food or the condition of the stomach, is not digested, is worse than no food at all. This is a true statement as far as it goes and a great many dyspeptics go only this far with their reasoning. They argue with themselves that because their stomachs do not do the work given them, they must be given less work; in other words, they must be starved. It would be just as sensible for a business man who is unable to do all his own work to cut down his business to his own capacity as it is for the man to starve himself to relieve his stomach. The sensible business man who employs help and goes forward with his business. Likewise the sensible dyspeptic will employ help for his stomach and give his body proper nourishment.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets actually do the work assigned to them. They relieve weak and overburdened stomachs of a great portion of digestive action. Their component parts are identical with those of the digestive fluids and secretions of the stomach and they simply take up the grind and carry on the work just the same as a good, strong, healthy stomach would do it.

On this account Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are perfectly natural in their action and effects. They do not cause an unnatural or violent disturbance in the stomach or bowels. They themselves digest the food and supply the system with all the nourishment contained in what is eaten and carry out Nature's plans for the sustenance and maintenance of the body.

How much more sensible is this method than that employed by many sufferers from weak stomachs. By this means the body and brain get all the good, nutritious food they need and the man is properly nourished and equipped to carry on his work and perform his duties. He could not possibly be in proper working condition by starving himself or employing some new fangled, insufficient food that does not contain enough nutriment for a year-old babe. A strong man doing strong work must be properly fed and this applies to the brain as well as the body.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, by relieving the stomach of its work, enable it to recuperate and regain its normal health and strength. Nature repairs the worn and wasted tissues just as she heals and knits the bone of a broken limb, which is of course not used during the process of repair.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for sale by all druggists at 50 cents a box and they are the one article that the druggist does not try to sell something in the place of that's "just as good." Their unqualified merit and success and the universal demand for them has placed them within the reach of everyone.

DUMB WITH FEAR, WOMAN WATCHES A NEGRO BURGLAR

Mrs. Rieger Finds Voice to Scream Only When He Seizes Her Arm.

Mrs. Anna Rieger of 2321 Olive street awoke at 4 o'clock Friday morning and saw a negro standing in the doorway of her bedroom. She had a clear view of him, for the negro had lighted a match which he held before his face while he peered about the bedroom.

Finally his eyes rested on the bed, where lay Mrs. Rieger and her 15-year-old daughter, Opal Rieger. Then the negro blew out the match, and for 10 minutes Mrs. Rieger and the intruder faced one another silently in the darkness. The girl did not awaken.

"Those were the most horrible 10 minutes I have ever known," Mrs. Rieger told a Post-Dispatch reporter. "I could see the negro in the doorway. I could not see his eyes, but I knew that he was watching me.

"William Butts and his wife were asleep in the front part of the house. If I screamed I knew they would come. And then I thought of Opal. It would terrify her, I knew, and I was afraid to awaken the child. So I waited.

"Finally the negro walked slowly toward the bed. I thought I was dying from fright. I thought I could not move my limbs or raise my voice. I was suffocating with horror when he approached nearer, and leaning over my bed, placed one of his big hands on my arm. Then I screamed.

"Quick as a flash, the negro darted out through the doorway where he had first been standing. Opal was awakened by my screaming, and the two of us lay shivering in bed until we heard William Butts, who is a city fireman, and Mrs. Butts pounding on the door which leads into their part of the house and calling to us to let them in.

Match Awakened Her.

"Before that I had been conscious of strange noises and had seen a light passing queerly back and forth before my bedroom window. I thought that perhaps Mrs. Butts had arisen early to do some work and was carrying the lamp to and fro."

The negro had evidently been in the rooms occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Butts before Mrs. Rieger saw him in the doorway of her bedroom. The two families occupy the second floor, and the negro, after climbing the rear stairs, had forced windows to the rooms of both families.

Mrs. Butts later found a lamp, which had been taken from her table, on the sill of one of the windows that the negro had forced. Nothing was taken from either room.

Woman's Power Over Man

Woman's most glorious endowment is the power to awaken and hold the pure and honest love of a worthy man. When she loses it and still loves on, no one in the wide world can know the heart agony she endures. The woman who suffers from weakness and ailments distinctly feminine soon loses the power to sway the heart of a man. Her general health suffers and she loses her good looks, her attractiveness, her amiability and her power and prestige as a woman. Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., with the assistance of his staff of able physicians, has prescribed for and cured many thousands of women. He has devised a successful remedy for women's ailments. It is known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a positive specific for the weaknesses and disorders peculiar to women. It purifies, strengthens and heals. Medicine dealers sell it. No honest dealer will advise you to accept a substitute in order to make a little larger profit.

FEDERAL BOARD TAKES ISSUE WITH M'KINLEY ROAD

Commerce Commission Denies Any Ruling Justifies 15-Cent Bridge Charge.

STILL IS IN EFFECT

Illinois Railroad Commission Also Denies That Any Order Was Issued.

A mileage rate which makes the fare between St. Louis and Granite City 15 cents on all through cars is still in effect on the Illinois Traction cars of the McKinley system.

Passengers traveling between these two points are expected to ride only on the local cars which run from the terminals every 15 minutes.

This makes it possible for the company to say that it is not exceeding the franchise rate of 5 cents between St. Louis and Granite City, but the fact remains that all passengers who get on the through cars in St. Louis and go to points beyond Granite City pay their fare on a tariff basis which gives the company 15 cents for carrying them to Granite City.

Practically no local passengers are now being carried between St. Louis and Granite City on the through cars. While the company does not refuse to carry passengers for the short haul, it has instructed its employes to advise them to ride on the local cars and to inform them that if they insist on riding on the through cars they must pay 15 cents.

The franchise ordinance specifically states that on all cars of the company crossing the McKinley Bridge into and out of the city the fare between St. Louis and Granite City shall not be more than 5 cents.

City Councilman Schutz, who is conducting an investigation, holds that this is a plain violation of the terms of the franchise under which the company is permitted to operate in St. Louis.

Telegrams From Two Capitals.

At a recent hearing called by Councilman Schutz officials of the McKinley System said that regulations of the Illinois Railroad and Warehouse Commission and the Interstate Commerce Commission compel the company to charge 2 cents a mile on all parts of its system and that this is the reason why the St. Louis-Granite City proportion of the through rate is maintained at 15 cents.

To see if this statement could be verified the Post-Dispatch sent telegrams to Springfield and Washington.

This reply came from the Illinois capital:

"The Railroad and Warehouse Commission of Illinois has issued no order to the McKinley System that they must charge a 2-cent-a-mile rate between Granite City and St. Louis. The State Commission has no jurisdiction. It is a matter for the Interstate Commerce Commission."

The answer from Washington was:

"The Interstate Commerce Commission states positively that there is no decision of the commission creating a situation like that claimed by the McKinley System. It knows of no pending case involving a 2-cent-a-mile rate between St. Louis and Granite City."

KATHERINE TINGLEY ABSOLVED IN MRS. JULIA QUINN CASE

California Court Dismisses Her in Suit for Custody of Physician's Private Patient.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Oct. 28.—Attorneys for Mrs. Katherine Tingley have secured from the Superior Court here an order dismissing her as a respondent in the habeas corpus action recently adjudicated, wherein a relative of Mrs. Julia P. Quinn sought to secure her release from the custody of Dr. Lorin S. Wood, senior physician of the Universal Brotherhood and Theosophical Society, of which Mrs. Tingley is the official head.

The testimony in the habeas corpus proceeding showed that Mrs. Quinn, who had been adjudged incompetent by the Superior Court in May, 1908, was a private patient of Dr. Wood on her mother's property at Point Loma, fully a mile away from the headquarters of the society. By error, Katherine Tingley was made a joint respondent with Dr. Wood in the case, but the evidence showed conclusively that neither she nor any of her agents had anything whatever to do with the case or control of Mrs. Quinn.

Publications to the effect that Katherine Tingley was in any way connected with the case or control of Mrs. Quinn have done her a great injustice.

NEW KINLOCH TELEPHONE BOOK HAS 55,000 NAMES

It Required Three Carloads of Paper to Complete the Publication.

The new Kinloch Telephone directory, issued Thursday, contains more than 55,000 names and is the largest book ever issued by the company.

It required three carloads of paper to make up the edition, and if the books were laid end to end they would extend from New York to San Francisco.

In the next edition, for reasons of space economy, the classified residence list will be omitted. Connections with many new points in Southeast Missouri have recently been made.

Why You Should Wear Corinne Shoes

THERE are a half dozen very good reasons. One of them is that Corinne Shoes were conceived and have been built to satisfy an unmistakable demand for a dependable, medium-priced shoe. Anything sold under the brand "Corinne" is vouched for by the Stix, Baer & Fuller Dry Goods Co. We are acquainted with every particle of raw material that goes into the make-up of the article, and in the case of Corinne Shoes, the styles are made up to our own specifications. In calling attention to the merits of the Corinne Shoes, we have made some very positive statements as to their quality, style, etc., and we would like to know if, after a trial of the shoes, your opinion coincides with ours.

WE feature two of the newest styles of the season, viz., the new Soubrette last, which resembles the Stage last and comes in kid, gunmetal and patent with kid or cloth tops, and an endless variety of other styles; $3.50 and $3.00. (Main Floor.)

JOHNSTONE FLIES 9000 FEET HIGH IN A 60-MILE STORM

Fights Way Through Snow to a Height That Breaks All American Records.

RACES WITH HOXSEY

Aeroplanes Are Blown Miles From Grand Stand, but Pilots Refuse to Quit.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Ralph Johnstone is the pride of the land hereabouts for fighting a furious 60-mile-an-hour storm in his Wright biplane. He climbed 9000 feet into the sky yesterday, surpassing by thousands of feet all previous American records, including his own of 7303, made last Tuesday.

In the course of his achievement he was blown 55 miles from the grand stand, went through swirls of snow and sleet, fought the gale with all the force of the motor in his biplane and was driven backward at 15 miles an hour to Middle Island Village. But he went on manipulating his machine just the same, and defying the fury of the gale, achieved an ascension that falls only 186 feet short of the world's record height made by the Dutchman, Wynmalen, at Rheims.

Arch Hoxsey was also in the fight with the gale, and he went up 6000 feet. He was blown 25 miles from the aviation track, landing at Brentwood, L. I.

The last the big crowd at Belmont Park had seen of the two men was when their biplanes, floating backward in closest companionship, became midget things against the lowering skies and then faded out of sight altogether. Hardly had this happened when the sky blackened; whirlwinds of dust and dead leaves were whipped up on the field, rain spatted and the gale was on.

Cup Team Is Appointed.

The selection of the American team by the Aero Club of America last night cut off one expected event—the elimination trials among the American contestants to select this country's competitors for the Gordon Bennett Cup, the big International trophy to be competed for tomorrow.

There remained, however, an event which has excited even more interest. This was the contest for the special prize of $10,000 offered by Thomas F. Ryan for a 35-mile flight from the field to the Statue of Liberty in New York harbor and return, open to any aviator, the best time to win. The conditions laid by the committee yesterday were that the aviators might start on their journey between 1:30 and 3:45, being given until 5:30 to finish.

The American team is composed of Walter Brookins, J. Armstrong Drexel and Charles K. Hamilton. Brookins will fly the new Wright racer, Drexel will use a Bleriot monoplane and Hamilton will be mounted on his 110 horsepower "Hamiltonian." Three substitutes also were named as follows: John B. Moissant, Arch Hoxsey and "Bud" Mars.

The English entrants in the contest are Claude Grahame-White and James Radley, both of whom will use 50-horsepower Bleriot monoplanes. France will be represented by Alfred Le Blanc with a Bleriot racer of 100-horsepower; Hubert Latham, who flies a 100-horsepower Antoinette monoplane, and Count de Lesseps in a 50-horsepower Bleriot.

The contest for supremacy between the biplane and the monoplane will be one of the chief features of the race.

By RALPH JOHNSTONE.

I MADE 9000 feet altitude after a hard, exciting, thrilling and, I guess, pretty dangerous fight with a gale. As far as going against it was concerned, the wind had me beaten absolutely. I was trying to fight it with a 45-mile-an-hour force, and the wind was against me at 60 miles an hour. I was carried along backward at 15 to 20 miles an hour, with my motor going at full tilt. If anything had happened to the motor, I should have been in a bad fix. I should probably have been blown over backward; that would have meant the end of me.

In any event, I should have had to stay up, in all probability, and then I guess I might have been blown out to sea.

However, the motor didn't break down and I was up some 4000 feet before the gale broke at its hardest, so I went on trying to climb. Hoxsey was in the same game and he was climbing, too.

I carried three height-registering instruments with me, an aneroid barometer, strapped to my wrist, and two official barographs. These all record the fact that I went up 9000 feet. The wind was fierce, but the cold was nothing to what I suffered the other day when I went up something over 7000 feet. I struck sleet and snow, but the cold was endurable. The other day it just froze me through and through.

Sorry He Didn't Keep On.

But at 9000 feet I had all I wanted of wind and cold and started back to earth. I did not realize then that I was so close to the world's record or I would have stuck it out.

The descent seemed pretty dangerous at times, for after I had started to glide I would go several hundred feet sometimes beyond my calculations. I took a good many involuntary falls, but as I got near the earth there was some abatement of the wind and I was in perfect control of the biplane when I actually landed. The only damage my machine has suffered is a broken wheel on the runner.

I don't like to boast about what I am going to do, but after this experience I honestly think I can bring the world's record aeroplane ascension to America.

By ARCH HOXSEY.

WHEW! I certainly got blown some. I guess Johnstone beat me, though. We were both getting blown away. I was up 6000 feet when I saw him last and he was up a good deal higher than that. We simply had to take our medicine from the wind. My old motor worked faithfully, but the wind was stronger than the impulse she gave the biplane. I guess we were driven backward about twenty miles an hour. Still there was nothing to stop me working upward, and so I did. But when I got 6000 feet up I figured that drifting all the time as I was, I might start to come down and find nothing to land on more solid than the ocean waves. I didn't like that notion a little bit. So I came down.

It was exciting work, believe me. I got caught in half a dozen whirlpools, but I made it all right. I came down without so much as snapping a wire or bumping myself.

But I had the time of my life keeping the biplane on the ground after I landed in Brentwood. I was holding on to it and it was pulling me around. I saw two men and yelled to them and after I got them to hold I went to a farm near here and got a lot of rope and then we tied the frisky old girl to a tree and covered her nicely over with canvas. Me hurt? Didn't even soil my collar.

It was not on the orders of either of the Wrights that Johnstone and Hoxsey took to the sky in the face of the heavy storm, the preliminary signs of which were plain when they started. The whole thing came about through the rivalry of the two men to hold first honors for the company.

Back of the hangars is a small restaurant. Johnstone was eating pie there when Hoxsey entered.

"I shouldn't wonder!" said Johnstone, tantalizingly, "if he was going to put on some of the nicest clothes and fly to a pink tea in the sky."

Hoxsey never looked Johnstone's way as he left. But a few minutes afterward one of the Wright staff ran in and said:

"What do you think? Hoxsey's gone up! How's that for nerve?"

Johnstone left his fork stuck in a fresh piece of pie, jumped up and ran out of the restaurant. He sped to his hangar and two minutes later the grand stand crowd cheered wildly the announcement from the stand:

"Johnstone for altitude!"

CORNELL TO CONTINUE FOOTBALL

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 28.—None of the remaining Cornell football games will be cancelled because of the death here last night of L. R. Paine of Duluth, Minn., captain of the freshman team, from injuries received in a practice game on October 13.

While the deepest regret is felt because of the death it has been decided to continue the varsity teams' schedule as originally planned.

HAWLEY BALLOON TO BE SAVED FOR AERO SHOW HERE

Spindler Told to Rescue Gas Bag for Exhibition at the Coliseum.

BANQUET IS PLANNED

Winners of Cup Race Will Be Guests at Big Reception in New York.

The balloon America II, winner of two international races in succession and founder of a new world's record for distance, is to be exhibited in St. Louis at the National Aero show, if it can be recovered in time from its cache in the wilderness of Northern Quebec, near Lake Tshistagama. The show will be held at the Coliseum, Nov. 12 to 20.

President Albert Bond Lambert of the St. Louis Aero Club has telegraphed Lewis Spindler, agent of the club in Canada, to make arrangements for the rescue of the balloon and for its transportation to St. Louis. Alan R. Hawley, pilot of the aerostat, offered a reward of $300 in Quebec for its recovery.

It is planned to inflate the balloon and suspend it from the roof of the Coliseum, in the center of the arena. The basket and equipment carried by Hawley and Augustus Post will be on exhibition, hanging from the rubber gas bag near enough to the floor for a close view.

"The America II is the most famous balloon in the world," said Lambert Friday. "Against 24 contestants, it won the international race from Zurich, Switzerland, last year, with E. W. Mix as pilot. Against nine competitors it won the 1910 race from St. Louis and set a new world's record for distance."

Telegram From Hawley.

Hawley and Post are expected to reach New York, their home, at 10:10 p. m. Friday. They left Montreal over the Delaware & Hudson Railroad at 10:55 p. m. Thursday. During their stay in Montreal they were entertained by the Automobile and Aero Club of that city.

Lambert received the following telegram Friday from Hawley:

"I congratulate you on the greatest event in balloon history. Post thanks you from the bottom of his heart for your kindness and the value you placed upon our lives. Your efforts to save us cannot be realized. Both tired, but well. ALAN R. HAWLEY."

The victorious aeronauts will receive a memorable reception in New York. Lambert said he would leave St. Louis at 5 p. m. Friday for New York. The official welcome of the Aero Club of America will take the form of a banquet Monday night, at which leading citizens of New York and the most famous aviators and aeronauts of two continents will be guests.

When Hawley and Post reached Quebec Thursday it was learned that the former had wrenched his right knee on the second day of their struggle back from the Canadian wilderness. Hawley was limping painfully, as he had trudged nearly fifty miles after being injured.

Tells How He Was Hurt.

Explaining the accident, he said:

"We were going through a dense tangle of brambles and fallen timbers and were making poor progress Thursday afternoon of last week. In working my way through I leaped upon what seemed a solid log. It crumbled beneath me and my whole weight was thrown suddenly upon my right leg, which buckled under me. I can stand a good deal of pain, but I never had anything take hold of me as that did.

"A few hours after we lay down that night I began to suffer terrible pains in my right knee joint. I spent a frightful night awake, worrying whether I would be able to push on the next morning. Fortunately, when I arose, I was able to stand and move about, much to my relief."

Hawley commented on "the remarkable fact that from five minutes after leaving St. Louis he and Post did not sight any other balloon."

Followed by a Steamer.

"As we passed over Port Washington, Mich," continued the aeronaut, "a steamer put out and followed us for some distance, and then turned back. I desire to thank the captain for his well-meant offer of assistance.

"When we were compelled to descend we could find no proper landing place and had to come down in a tree top. To ease the fall I threw out a bag of ballast. We started up and I pulled the rip cord, letting all the gas out with a rush. We were whipped across the tree tops at a terrific pace for 200 feet, and landed in the midst of a forest of giant trees. In the morning we had breakfast of hot soup, rolls and crackers. Then, in empty ballast bags, we packed the necessities for our trek back to civilization and started, leaving the balloon. During the journey I threw away my statiscope, thermometer and hydrometer."

$15,000 FOR FALSE ARREST

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Fifteen thousand dollars is the price a sheriff's jury at Mineola, Long Island, has decided Mrs. Mary Martin of this city must pay Robert Davison, an expressman, for causing his arrest on a charge of stealing a $2000 necklace from her home when he called there to get a trunk.

Mrs. Martin failed to press the charge before the grand jury and Davison never was indicted. He sued for $25,000.

MRS. STAMM IS CHAMPIONED BY MRS. SCHOPP SR.

Fine Young Woman, Says Mother of Athlete, Who Was Sued for $10,000.

Mrs. Conrad Schopp Sr., wealthy mother of Conrad Schopp Jr., college poet and athlete, has come out as the champion of her son and of the woman whose affections he is accused of alienating.

"Mrs. W. H. Stamm is a very fine young woman," said Mrs. Schopp to a Post-Dispatch reporter Friday. "I know where she is and I am helping her in every way I can. She is a poor girl thrown out on the world alone. She is not stopping here at my home and I cannot now tell you where she is, but I shall stand by her in her misfortune."

In his suit against Schopp for $10,000, W. H. Stamm, man milliner, alleges that Mrs. Stamm is being maintained at Schopp's expense.

"That is not true," said Mrs. Schopp. "Mrs. Stamm is such a nice young woman that I am doing all I can for her."

Says Wife Has Disappeared.

Stamm alleges that his wife has been spirited away from him and that he does not know where she went when she left their home last May.

Others have obtained more information as to the young wife's movements. She went first to the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Holly, at 1620 North Nineteenth street, according to Mrs. J. D. Yeager, who now lives at that address. The present home of the Holly family is at 4112 De Soto avenue.

"I lived here with the Hollys when Mrs. Stamm was here," said Mrs. Yeager. "Schopp was a frequent visitor here. He says that he was the friend of Mrs. Krone rather than of her daughter, Mrs. Stamm. Mrs. Stamm said to me that she thought a great deal of Schopp.

Visited the Schopp Home.

"Several times when she lived here, Mrs. Stamm visited the Schopp home. When Mrs. Stamm left here last July her shirtwaist box and two or three trunks were sent to the Schopp residence at 3832 Washington boulevard Mrs. Schopp once gave Mrs. Stamm a lace cap to be given as a present to Mrs. Holly's baby."

SHANNON RAPS POLITICIANS WHO DUPE THE NEGRO

Says Whites Who Practice Election Trickery Should Be Disfranchised.

REPLIES TO HADLEY

Crowd Is Told That Judge Taylor Will Win a Bride if Elected.

Joseph B. Shannon, chairman of the Democratic State Committee, was one of the principal speakers for the St. Louis Democrats at their meeting at the North St. Louis Turner Hall, Thirteenth and Monroe streets, Thursday night. Shannon was criticised recently by Gov. Hadley for the election methods he employed in Kansas City, and his speech was principally an answer to the Hadley charges.

"I have never favored disfranchising the negro," said Shannon, "but I do favor the disfranchisement of white men who make use of the negroes for election purposes, such as the Kansas City Republicans are now doing. The man who plays the game of political trickery with the negro ought to be voted out of office."

Barker Criticises Hadley.

John T. Barker, a member of the Missouri House of Representatives from La Plata, Mo., also was one of the speakers. He charged that the failure to enact a home rule law at the last session of the Legislature was wholly due to the attitude of Gov. Hadley.

The Democrats held other meetings at 2228 Hickory street and 3427 Market street. The Democratic candidates spoke at all of the meetings.

The Republicans held their most important meeting in the Seventeenth Ward at 3137 Pine street. Representative Hiram Lloyd presided. A. E. L. Gardner, Republican candidate for United States Senator, made a speech charging that the Democrats, who controlled the last Legislature on joint ballot, were responsible for the failure to give St. Louis home rule. He said the Democrats tried to enact a "Jim Crow" law, and also to disfranchise the negroes.

Judge Taylor Speaks.

Judge Wilson A. Taylor, candidate for Circuit Judge, was enthusiastically received. Judge Taylor was presented to the audience by Charles R. Graves in a highly complimentary speech.

One of the speakers alluded to the fact that if Judge Taylor wins in the election he will also win a bride. This statement caused prolonged cheering, and the Republican workers gave him their pledge that they would see to it that he got the bride.

Former Circuit Attorney Arthur N. Sager contrasted election conditions in St. Louis under Republican and Democratic administrations. He said that St. Louis now has honest and quiet elections, while a few years ago, under Democratic control, it was necessary to have ambulances at the polls to carry away the citizens who were slugged by police and thugs.

L. C. Dyer, candidate for Congress, and others spoke. The negro Republicans held meetings in three other wards.

There will be eight Republican ward meetings Friday night, and five Democratic meetings.

Charles Nagel, secretary of Commerce and Labor, will be the principal speaker at a mass meeting at Louisiana Hall, 911 North Vandeventer avenue. C. P. Walbridge will preside at the meeting. Mayor Kreismann will make his first speech of the campaign. Secretary Nagel will get into St. Louis at 5 p. m.

HOW OLD PEOPLE

May Prolong Their Lives

At an advanced age waste is more rapid than repair. The organs act more slowly and less effectually than in youth. The circulation is poor—the blood thin and watery—the appetite poor and digestion weak.

We want to say to every aged person in this vicinity that Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic (without oil) will prolong life. It creates an appetite, aids digestion and makes good blood. In this natural manner Vinol retards waste and replaces weakness with strength, giving new life to the worn system.

If people in this vicinity only realized how Vinol invigorates old people we would not be able to supply the demand.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. Wolff-Wilson Drug Co., St. Louis, Mo.

East Siders Help Make Project a Success—Lumber Men Keep Secret.

The increasing success and attendance which have marked the progress of the St. Louis Real Estate and Building show at the Coliseum reached a climax Thursday when the real estate men held sway.

Members of the St. Louis exchange attended in a body, and a delegation from the East St. Louis exchange, after being banqueted at the Missouri Athletic Club as guests of the local dealers, went to the Coliseum to add to the merriment there.

John S. Blake & Bro. have one of the best booths at the Coliseum. It shows models and designs of houses which the concern has for sale. This booth is located at the Washington avenue entrance, and is made attractive by many little incidental features, including a musical program by a big phonograph, operated by John S. Blake. The Blakes already have sold a number of houses at the exposition.

A Novel Exhibit.

Across the aisle is the booth of the Davis Realty Development Co., showing Vinita Park with its streets and environments in a complete map of the city and county. This map is electrically lighted and affords a bird's eye view of this section.

This booth is in charge of Every Davis and a dozen salesmen and a girl who gives out literature concerning Vinita Park.

Sidney Schiele has one of the prize booths of the show. It represents a model music room in an apartment. Mrs Schiele is on the Reception Committee at the Schiele booth, and a pianola concert is in progress from 8 to 11 o'clock in the evening.

A. R. Schollmeyer presents a large map showing a bird's-eye view of Hadley Park on South King's highway, which is remarkable for its realistic effect.

Shirley Park Lots.

Shirley Park is also shown in relief by Charles H. Carter, who is selling this property off in lots to suit on the installment plan to the home-loving buyers.

Another subdivision feature at the Coliseum is Music's North University Heights addition, which is shown in a miniature and which is electrically lighted. It is a complete model of that subdivision, and is both novel and unique.

The West St. Louis Trust Co. is giving several hundred dollars away in a drawing and guessing contest which is under the management of R. D. Baldauf. A committee composed of M. G. Reynolds, A. A. B. Woerheide and Charles F. Joy will award the prizes. This booth is well equipped and is one of the attractive resorts of the Coliseum.

The Holbrook-Blackwelder company has a booth at the main entrance of the Coliseum where literature concerning the property that they have for sale and for rent is being dispensed.

Adam Boeck & Co. have an attractive and commodious booth at one end of the Coliseum, and George Boeck was there looking after it last night.

Lumbermen Keep a Secret.

The Nicholls-Ritter Realty and Financial Co. has a booth at the show.

Lumbermen will have their inning at the show Saturday night, and propose to give a shaving carnival; but what that is they are keeping secret. None but members of the Order of Hoo Hoos, their secret organization, have been able to get an inkling of the solution of the mystery.

BURTON HOLMES TRAVELOGUE ON "THE REAL BOHEMIA"

Burton Holmes delivered his travelogue on "The Real Bohemia," to a big audience at the Odeon last night. It was made exceedingly attractive by beautiful colored views and motion pictures, well supplemented by Mr. Holmes' accompanying lecture, and was greatly enjoyed.

The fourth travelogue of the series, the subject of which is "Motor Journeys in Germany," will be given next Thursday afternoon at 4 and evening at 8:15. From a picturesque point of view this will not be surpassed by any of the series, being in reality a delightfully intimate tour of a most interesting country. Mr. Holmes will repeat his travelogue on "The Passion Play of Oberammergau in 1910" Wednesday evening, Nov. 16.

WASHINGTON SENDS MEN TO MOVE ST. LOUIS POSTOFFICE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—The Postmaster-General has appointed a committee of three officials to visit St. Louis and there to make an investigation and report as to the changes necessary and incident to the transfer and removal of the central postoffice from its present quarters to the building near Union Station.

The committee is composed of J. M. Masten, Assistant Superintendent Division of Railway Mail Service; George A. Gasman, Assistant Superintendent of Mails at Chicago, and J. N. Hennen, Postoffice Inspector.

WICKERSHAM HAS NO PLACE FOR NEGRO TAFT APPOINTED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—When the announcement came from one seemingly close to the Taft administration that William H. Lewis, a negro lawyer of Boston, was to be appointed an assistant attorney-general of the United States, it was regarded as a bid for the negro vote, particularly in Massachusetts.

Attorney-General Wickersham upset the plans today at the White House. He told reporters that not only had he been ignored in the selection of Lewis, but that he knew of no vacancy in the Department of Justice to which Mr. Lewis could be appointed.

The situation is mystifying to those who have intimate relations with both the White House and Department of Justice. Secretary Norton and other persons authorized to speak for President Taft will neither deny nor confirm the story that Lewis is to be appointed.

BIG STEAMSHIP CO. PLANNED

Object Is to Compete With Transcontinental Railroads.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 28.—Plans for the organization of a steamship line which, it is said, would compete with transcontinental railroads, were presented to commercial bodies of New Orleans today by Bernard N. Baker of New York. Mr. Baker is president of the National Conservation Commission.

He declared that the proposed company would be capitalized at $10,000,000 and would operate 15 10,000-ton steamers from the Northern Pacific Coast via San Francisco and Panama and from Colon to New Orleans and New York.

"For the Public Service"

Q. What built the New York Central Lines?
A. Money derived from the sale of its Bonds and Shares.

Q. Who buys the Bonds?
A. Savings Banks principally, then Trustees, Executors, Administrators, Guardians, Trust Companies, Life and Fire Insurance Companies, and other similar institutions.

Q. Whose money is it?
A. The savings of millions of men and women depositors.

Q. Then, who owns the New York Central Lines?
A. The real owners of the New York Central Lines are the millions of small investors, scattered everywhere.

Q. Give a simple example.
A. The Savings Banks of six States—New York, New Jersey, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Connecticut and Maine—own almost $700,000,000 worth of railroad securities, which amount represents about one-fourth of their total deposits.

Q. How many people are interested?
A. These Savings Banks alone have over six million depositors. On an average, therefore, each one owns a little more than $100 worth of railroad property.

Q. Who would suffer most when harm came to the Railroads?
A. Its employees, the small merchant and business man, and the millions of men and women who have deposited their small surplus in the Savings Banks or have invested in Life Insurance policies.

Q. Is not the Railroad problem the people's problem?
A. The people are directly related to the Railroads through the holdings of the small investor. The merchant and business man in turn depends upon them and the great army of employees. Thus the prosperity of the Railroads directly affects all the people in every part of the country, and no community can hope to enjoy full prosperity unless the Railroads are prosperous.

KIEL ASKED TO SCRATCH FRANK FOR GOV. HADLEY

City G. O. P. Chairman Refuses to Align Himself With the Plan.

STARTED BY FRIENDS

Scheme to Write in Executive's Name for Senator Is Under Headway.

Chairman Henry Kiel of the Republican City Committee asked Friday regarding the rumor that Kansas City friends of Gov. Hadley had under way a movement to induce voters to scratch all Republican senatorial candidates on the ballot and write in Hadley's name, told a Post-Dispatch reporter that he was approached Thursday by Rush Lake and Homer B. Mann of Kansas City to ascertain his position on the plan.

"They were given to understand," Kiel said, "that the city committee in St. Louis was pledged to Nathan Frank for Senator, and that neither the committee nor the individual members would change."

Plan Was Discussed.

Lake and Mann are close personal and political friends of Gov. Hadley. Lake was Hadley's assistant when Hadley was Attorney-General, and when Hadley became Governor he appointed Lake State oil inspector, one of the best jobs at the disposal of the Governor. Mann is a Republican leader in Jackson County.

Kiel declined to go into the details of his conversation with Lake and Mann, but said the plan was discussed at length.

"I am for Hadley," Kiel said Friday, "and I would have been greatly pleased if he decided to become a candidate and have his name on the ballot. I am now pledged to Frank and I will not double-cross him for anybody.

"Frank will have the support of the St. Louis City Committee. I understand the Hadley-for-Senator plan has gained some headway in Kansas City, but I fail to see how it can meet with success, especially at this late day."

Chairman Morris of the Republican State Committee said Friday he had no information of a movement to have Hadley's name written on the ballot by voters.

Has Headway in Kansas City.

The plan, according to information received in St. Louis, has been under way in Kansas City for several weeks. It was started immediately after Isaac B. Kimbrell of Kansas City withdrew his candidacy for Senator.

Gov. Hadley was urged by many of his friends to become a candidate at the Senatorial primary, but after considering the matter for several weeks, he issued a statement that he would not be a candidate and that he believed it to be his duty to serve out his term as Governor, which does not expire until Jan. 1, 1913.

SALOONS DON'T HARM PROPERTY MEMPHIS RESIDENTS AFFIRM

Decision as to Injunction Against 114 Bars Is Near at Hand.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 28.—The decision of Judge John E. McCall as to whether he will dissolve or make permanent the temporary injunction issued from the Federal Court closing 114 Memphis saloons will come within 24 hours. At the close of the hearing late yesterday evening the Court announced he would decide the case before Sunday, when he will leave the city.

In closing his argument for the defendants, Attorney E. E. Wright presented affidavits from county and city officials to the effect that they had attempted to enforce the prohibition law and affidavits from property owners representing holdings valued at $4,000,000 to the effect that property values had not depreciated here because of nonenforcement of the liquor laws. The petitioners who made affidavits that property values had depreciated have holdings of only $20,000.

SOLDIER RE-ENLISTS; HIS WIFE SUES FOR A DIVORCE

Elsie J. Tomlinson began suit for divorce Friday against her soldier-husband, Herbert C. Tomlinson, who is lost somewhere in the United States Army. Mrs. Tomlinson says the last time she saw her husband he was at Jefferson Barracks.

Mrs. Tomlinson says she married the soldier in St. Louis Feb. 4, 1907. She says they agreed that he should serve out his enlistment, which expired in January, 1908, and that then they would start housekeeping. In the meantime, she says, he visited her every month. But at the end of his term he re-enlisted. Where he now is she does not know.

FOUR SPEECHES BY REED HERE

Kansas City Candidate Will Make His First Address Nov. 3.

The Kansas City candidate will make his first speech at Lemp's Park Hall in South St. Louis, Nov. 3. The speaking will be at 8 p. m.

He will speak at the North St. Louis Turner Hall the night of Nov. 4. He will make two speeches the night of Nov. 5, one at Hibernian Hall on Finney, near Grand avenue, and the other at West St. Louis Hall.

MOB ATTACKS MEN BREAKING EXPRESS STRIKE

Policemen Hurt in Riots on Both Sides of the Hudson River.

STATE TROOPS READY

Militia Will Be Called if Fighting Gets Beyond Police Control.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—While the New Jersey militia has been ordered to be ready to march into Jersey City, in event the express strike passes beyond the control of the police, the first outbreak of violence in this city occurred today at Fifth avenue and Forty-sixth street.

There were 150 strikers and their sympathizers gathered at the corner when an American Express Co.'s wagon drove up. The mob pelted the drivers with stones and grabbed the reins. Two policemen succeeded in driving the attackers back as the express drivers turned about and galloped the horses to the stable. There they abandoned the outfit.

The most serious clash yet in the express strike occurred when a determined mob swooped down on eight wagons leaving the Wells-Fargo stables in Jersey City. Scores of persons were injured and many knocked into unconsciousness before the police finally quelled the riot. Sixteen seriously injured strike breakers were taken across the Hudson River to a hospital in Manhattan.

Shortly after the first attack another took place at Madison avenue and Forty-second street. The driver of this team saw the crowd rushing toward him and he abandoned his horses and fled. The police dispersed the crowd.

Policemen Hurt by Mob.

Decisive action on the New Jersey side of the river was expected today following last night's serious rioting, in which two policemen were badly injured and a number of strike-breakers terribly beaten by an angry mob.

Mayor Wittpen and Chief of Police Monahan of Jersey City, however, insisted that the city authorities are able to cope with the situation.

The Adams Express Co. made no effort today to send out any of its wagons. On the other hand, the American Express Co. seemed determined to carry on its street deliveries and collections.

All of the drivers of the Adams Express Co. in Manhattan who remained faithful to the company yesterday went out on strike today. Two hundred more of the helpers and drivers of the American Express Co. also joined the ranks of the strikers.

Mob Attacks Wagon.

While there were more disorders in Jersey City today, the early outbreaks were not as serious as last night's rioting. An Adams Express Co. wagon was attacked near a ferry by a crowd of men, all armed with clubs and sticks. Stones were thrown and the strike breakers were badly beaten.

The horses were unhitched and the wagon was toppled over across the railroad tracks. Police reserves drove the mob away. One strike breaker was found unconscious.

Disorder continued throughout the forenoon on both sides of the river. One group of rioters in Jersey City first stormed an express wagon which had collided with a trolley car and then attacked the car, breaking every window in it. The passengers fled in terror.

A little later three strike breakers were dragged from a Wells Fargo wagon near the Erie Ferry and unmercifully beaten. One man was taken to a hospital unconscious. In an attack on an Adams wagon, near the Grand Central in Manhattan, a traffic policeman was struck with a brick and painfully injured.

C. F. KERW'N IS FINED $200 FOR BEATING STRIKE PICKETS

Glass Company President Denies He Clubbed Union Labor Men With a Billy.

On testimony that Edward F. Kerwin, president of the Kerwin Ornamental Glass Co., struck two labor union pickets on the head with a leather billy filled with bird-shot, he was fined $200 and costs by Judge Pollard, Friday. The alleged assault occurred during a strike at Kerwin's factory, 321 North Sixth street.

Thomas Burrows, 2635 Locust street, exhibited a scalp wound and Daniel G. Houwink, 2711 Osceola street, testified that he suffered a blood clot on the brain from Kerwin's blow.

The gray-haired defendant asserted that Houwink fell on his head while running from a policeman, and that Burrows was already wounded before the encounter.

After the fine had been imposed, Kerwin asked if he could pay with a check, and was told he could not. He was compelled to sit among other prisoners in the court until a messenger returned with the cash. He lives at 4117 Marfitt avenue.

The strike at his glass factory has been in progress two months. The demand of the workers is for an eight-hour day, instead of one of nine hours, at the same pay.

SWOPE GUARD'S HOME IS BURNED, HIS WIFE BEATEN

Mysterious Midnight Attack Made While Former Marshal Was at His Post.

By Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 28.—A mysterious midnight attack was made on Mrs. W. C. Rice, wife of former Marshal William C Rice of Independence, Mo., and the Rice home burned to the ground shortly before 12 o'clock last night. Mrs. Rice sustained a broken rib and a bruise on the cheek.

Awakened shortly before midnight by a man walking under her bedroom window, Mrs. Rice investigated and was attacked by the man, who twice struck her. As the intruder fled she discovered the house was in flames, and awakening her two daughters, escaped a few minutes before the dwelling was in ruins.

Rice, who was away from home, is a private detective, employed to guard the home of Mrs. Logan O. Swope, mother of Mrs. B. C. Hyde. He has guarded the property since the death of Col. Thomas Swope.

A strong odor of kerosene around the burning house caused the belief that the entire rear section of the building had been sprinkled with the fluid.

LIQUOR IS SHIPPED FROM ONE PROHIBITION CITY TO ANOTHER

Dealers Try to Get Rid of Stock in Fear of Alabama Campaign.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 28.—Representatives of the Frisco system announced tonight that a full train load of liquor had been made up today to be shipped out of the State over their line.

The scramble of local dealers to get rid of stocks on hand is the result of the sensational campaign now under way to obtain enforcement of the prohibition laws. The destination of the train which left here tonight is said to be Memphis.

NOTE WARNS GIRL TO GO TO BRIDGE AND BE KIDNAPED

Message Signed "Hop Alley" Starts Search for Dark Man With Black Beard.

Fifteen-year-old Pearl Bachmeier was startled when she got this letter out of the mail box in front of her home at 2238 Wren avenue:

Miss Pearl: We will give you one warning only. Tuesday night you be on the bridge on Partridge avenue. It over in Sheney hollow. Be there at 9 o'clock sharp. A big dark man with a black beard will pass you and then he will ask you where Emma avenue is. You take and walk to Emma avenue with him. Stop at Emma and Tracy. There will be a buggy waiting for you there. If you obey us you will be brought back home in just two months from Tuesday night. But if you don't we will get you in a long run. If this is given to the police we will make it hard for you. Don't say anything to you parents. Obey us or suffer the consequences. Signed——Hop Alley.

At the bottom of the page was a crude drawing of a skull and cross bones with "death" written on the skull. There were several crosses and the word "Kid."

This was last Monday. Despite the threat, Pearl showed the letter to her mother, who notified the police. Patrolman Tillie of the Mounted District, in plain clothes, watched the bridge for two hours from a hiding place, but reported that no one appeared there, and the Bachmeiers concluded the letter had been written by some school boy in jest.

SUES WIFE WHO NEEDS $600 A YEAR FOR DRESS

Shevlin's Cross Bill Includes Charges of Poker Playing and Whisky Drinking.

CLOTHES IN IT, TOO

Could Not Go Visiting Because He Did Not Have Dress Suit.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

KIRKSVILLE, Mo., Oct. 28.—Clothes which Mrs. Bernice Shevlin testified would cost $600 a year if a woman would dress even modestly in St. Louis, have received even more prominence in the Shevlin divorce case by a cross-bill filed today by Sylvenus Shevlin, the husband, with Judge Shelton of the Circuit Court. Shevlin alleges that his wife moved in a social circle in which she said he could not go because he did not have a dress suit.

Besides this his petition tells a story of women in apartment houses who do not have enough to do and who learn to play poker for money and soon enjoy the society of other men more than that of their husbands.

The filing of the cross-bill was accompanied by an application for a change of venue from Judge Shelton's court, the husband alleging that the plaintiff had undue influence over the mind of Judge Shelton. This was taken by court attaches to refer to the fact that Judge Shelton had granted Mrs. Shevlin $60 a month temporary alimony in August when she appeared before him and told him how much it cost her to live—and dress. The change was granted and the case will be heard in Edina, Knox County, in December.

Denies Being Stingy.

The crossbill denies the charges made by the wife, that he abused her and was so stingy that she had to ask even for carfare, although he was worth $20,000 and was earning $300 a month. On his part, he alleges that sometime after their marriage, he and his wife, at the request of Mrs. Shevlin, who was averse o housekeeping, went to live at a boarding house in St. Louis, where Mrs. Shevlin met men and women of different habits of conduct and life from those to which they were accustomed. He says that having no duties to occupy her time, Mrs. Shevlin became addicted to the habit of going out and remaining away from her home for the greater part of the time, going by night as well as by day, and often remaining away until after midnight.

On one occasion, the husband says, when she came home late in the afternoon he noticed that her breath smelled of liquor, and upon questioning her she said that she had met one of her men acquaintances on the street and had gone with him to a restaurant, where they had whisky toddy. Frequently, Shevlin says, when his wife was out at night she was engaged with men and women playing poker and other games of cards for money. Once, he says, when he endeavored to dissuade her from going out at night to a party to which Shevlin was not invited, she told him that he would not enjoy going because the men all wore dress suits, something with which he was not provided. When he continued to remonstrate with her about going he says his wife procured an invitation for him and that he went with her. He found a poker game in progress in which money was at stake, and he also found that the men at the party were not dressed different than himself.

Wanted More Clothes.

Shevlin further alleges that when he remonstrated with his wife for going out with other men, she said she did not enjoy being out with him and asked: "Why don't you go out with other women? I don't care."

He also charges that his wife left home one morning at 4 o'clock and did not return until 9 in the evening. He states that he tried to dissuade her from such conduct, but that she became angry, and then reproached him because "she did not have clothes like those of her associates."

MRS. SNOWDEN TO TALK HERE; SUFFRAGIST, NOT SUFFRAGETTE

Thinks Distinction Is Important, for Her Followers Don't Go to Jail.

Mrs. Ethel Snowden of London, who is coming to St. Louis to talk on suffrage at the Wednesday Club next Tuesday night, is a suffragist, not a suffragette. She thinks the distinction an important one, for it means to her the difference between her ladylike, nonmilitant party and the Christobel Pankhurst following, who glory in the number of times they have been in jail for the cause.

She will speak under the auspices of the Equal Suffrage League, and the affair will be open to the public. Those in the audience will be allowed to ask her questions. Her husband, Philip Snowden, a member of the Labor Party in Parliament, is with her in this country, but it is not known whether he will accompany her to St. Louis. Mrs. Snowden was the Wednesday Club's guest three years ago, but did not talk suffrage then.

WORST COLD IS BROKEN AND GRIPPE MISERY RELIEVED IN SEVERAL HOURS.

Nothing else that you can take will break your cold or end grippe so promptly as a dose of Pape's Cold Compound every two hours until three consecutive doses are taken.

The most miserable headache, dullness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, running of the nose, sore throat, mucous catarrhal discharges, soreness, stiffness, rheumatism pains and other distress begin to leave after the very first dose.

Pape's Cold Compound is the result of three years' research at a cost of more than fifty thousand dollars, and contains no quinine, which we have conclusively demonstrated is not effective in the treatment of colds or grippe.

Take this harmless Compound as directed, with the knowledge that there is no other medicine anywhere else in the world, which will cure your cold or end Grippe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects as a 25-cent package of Pape's Cold Compound, which any druggist in the world can supply.—ADV.

Pause!

BEFORE you even decide where to look for your new suit or overcoat, consider deeply the practical advantage of selecting from the very greatest assembly of the very best tailoring known up to this period of clothing development. Think how much depends upon trading in a store which is known for the careful one-by-one buying of its huge stocks. Then add to this the further fact that the prices of this large organization are put through the boiling down process and—think still deeper. Name the store that is doing the most to earn your trade. Name the store that is so confident of its qualities and prices that it offers to send a group of suits and overcoats to your home for comparison with goods sent from any other store or stores. Name the store that is famous for the rich qualities of its $30, $35, $40 and $50 garments. Name the store that is building up a wonderful trade on its $16.50 "Edgemere" clothes and its $22 "Lennox" suits and overcoats. The fact that it is the thinking people who support this institution is the highest compliment we could receive. We want you added to our list, and some of these days, when you grow less careless in buying, we're going to win you sure as fate.

$365 grows to $12,000 in EAST TEXAS

Among the many interesting things told, for instance, is the story of B. E. Barber of Jacksonville, Tex. Just four years ago Mr. Barber bought 40 acres of land for $365 and started diversified farming. Last year he sold $340 worth of poultry. From an acre and a quarter he sold $246 worth of turnips. He had four and a half acres of Irish potatoes that netted him $724.50. These potatoes were planted in February and gathered May 20th. He had 3 acres of tomatoes that yielded from 600 to 700 crates to the acre, selling for 55c to $1.30 a crate. In these four years Mr. Barber has put $12,000 in the bank.

Why don't you go to this splendid country, where the ground is good to people—where soil, season and sensible cropping is speed you on the road to wealth; where land prices are low and profits are big? ### THE READY-TO-SERVE TRAP.

The North American Co. succeeded in putting over on the Laclede Gas Co., while that concern was under its control, one of its famous ready-to-serve contracts. Under the contract, the Laclede may be forced to pay $64,000 without receiving any electric current. But the Laclede is not ready to pay the ready-to-serve minimum. Being independent now of the North American, it cannot see either justice or reason in being forced to pay for what it does not get. It does not propose to be placed in the consumer class on which any old way of making profits may be imposed.

The protest of the Laclede against the North American's ready-to-serve contract clause is interesting to St. Louis citizens who have light and power contracts. If the Laclede wins, the local consumers of electricity and gas will see a way out of their difficulties.

---

There may be differences of opinion about the value of vaccination and the right to enforce it on school children, but there is none with regard to the conduct of the trained nurse, who while suffering from smallpox, spent three days in a sanitarium, rode downtown in a street car and sat with 40 other persons in the public dispensary.

LIFE AND SCIENCE.

In telegraphic reports from Cornell University to the Post-Dispatch, a series of interesting figures from a Cornell lecture on sociology seem to prove that life is lengthening rapidly as a result of modern science.

It is said among other things that while the average duration of human life has increased 20 years in 20 centuries, most of the increase has come in the last hundred years.

Unfortunately, no single person who enjoys living as he ought to do, can take it for granted that all the science of 20 centuries has added 20 years or 20 hours to his life or to his chances for living. While we know nothing of the average duration of life 20 centuries ago, except from a few summaries of unreliable Roman statistics, we do know very well that now and always the chances each one has for long life depend almost wholly on his own way of living.

This is as it ought to be and it will not change. There is a very great change for the better, which lengthens life statistically so that some mistake the meaning of the statistics. In the last 25 years such work as that of the Post-Dispatch Pure Milk Fund saves the lives of thousands of city children. It was the death rate among neglected children under 5 years old which did most to cut down the statistical average of duration for all life. Thus the average duration of life is actually lengthening. Science may claim its share of credit when such work as this extends until it adds a year to the average lifetime of all persons born in a generation. But the result is due chiefly to the "milk of human kindness" which does most to make all life worth living.

Probably the mysterious individual who acts so strangely out on the Clayton road is no highwayman at all. May he not be a brother motorist who has busted one of the gears in the transmission case of his own machine, and not having the patience to wait for a new one to arrive from some distant factory, is taking unusual means to get it?

SUFFRAGETTE UNREASON.

Because women criminals go unpunished, especially in the Southern States where prison conditions are barbarous, the Post-Dispatch suggested that public-spirited women could do a great work by advocating prison improvement.

Mrs. Lulu McClure Clarke, replies, in effect, that if men won't give women the ballot, women won't engage in humanitarian work. She says: "Since women are classed politically with convicts, it looks rather peculiar to ask one criminal to aid another. * * * If women are not good enough to be trusted with the ballot by means of which they could lessen or abolish the evil conditions that tend to produce crime, I fail to see why they should be thought good enough to 'reform' men afterwards."

American men, at least, have never dreamed of classing women, politically or otherwise, with criminals. That has been left to suffragettes. Nor do most American men hold that women are "not good enough" to be trusted with the ballot. It is not a question of goodness nor even fitness, but of privilege. The suffrage is a legal privilege, and there is little doubt that it will be granted to women just as soon as a majority of women show that they are more interested in politics and government than in the cut of waists and the styles of skirts. The majority of women are apathetic in regard to the ballot. Instead of waiting for the ballot in order to push such humane work as prison reform, women should follow the lead of Mrs. Elizabeth Ward Howe, who for years, labored for prison reform. The more women engaged in public work, the easier it will be for them to obtain the ballot.

TURN ON THE LIGHT.

Harmony within the ranks is the song of the Republican leaders and orators as the campaign draws to a close. Already they boast that there are no more stand-patters, no more insurgents—nothing but Republicans working for party success against the common enemy—against the uncovering of party secrets and party perfidies.

In Nebraska nothing more is heard of the reckless Bristow. He is making Chautauqua addresses. In Wisconsin the riotous La Follette is quiescent. In Minnesota insurgency is unspectacular. In Chicago, Cummins of Iowa, arch-rebel on the tariff, makes a speech beseeching his fellows to elect "all Republican candidates, no matter how wide their differences may have been with respect to the measures for the public interest which have been or are now proposed."

In Missouri Hadley, insurgent at heart, has taken his cue from Roosevelt and makes common cause with Warner, who all but out-Aldriched Aldrich on the Payne-Aldrich bill. He is preaching harmony and union up and down the State.

In such circumstances it is important that Democrats stand firm for Democratic resolves and principles. There are vital issues at stake. It is important that honest insurgents, who place patriotism before partisanship, stand firm if they would not trust evil-doers to reform the evils. There is purpose in Roosevelt's harmony preaching. There was purpose in his appearance on the stump, in his unparalleled activities and personal interest in the election of Republicans and the success of the party.

He says there is no inconsistency in his support of Beveridge in Indiana and Lodge in Massachusetts. To his mind and to the minds of the power-drunk Republicans, Lodge and Beveridge are small matters and their differences of no consequence. There are things they wish to avoid. They want no Democrats prying into old records. They want no investigations except of their own choosing and their own management. They want no exposure of the relations between the trusts and the Republican administrations of 14 years. They want not one of these things:

Investigation of the Sugar frauds.

Investigation of the Panama Canal scandal in the abuse of the great power of government to silence the press.

Investigation of tariff taxes, trust taxes, billion-dollar expenditures and ever increasing appropriations.

Investigation of the relation of protection and privilege to the tariff and the cost of living.

Investigation of the contributions of plutocracy to Republican campaign funds.

Investigation of the sale of the Friar lands to the Sugar Trust.

Investigation of the whole administration of the Philippines and Porto Rico.

Investigation of the cost and waste of jingoism, militarism, imperialism and the extravagance of $18,000,000 battleships.

Investigation of the work done by the secret service when under the control of Roosevelt.

Investigation of the efforts of trusts, syndicates and grabbers to get possession of public lands, mineral deposits and water power sites.

These are the things the Republicans don't want. This eagerness to escape investigation explains Mr. Roosevelt's ardent operations. It explains the harmony campaign. It is the cause of the appeals to partisanship.

But these are the things the people want. They want to know about the waste, the extravagance, the fraud and the corruption. They want to know about the alliances between privilege and politics, between protection and statesmanship, between graft and Republicanism.

Missouri should send not less than 15 Democrats to the House of Representatives.

Turn on the light.

We are glad to hear that the coal arbitrary can be reduced and will be good for awhile.

STABILITY OF LAND VALUES.

A striking evidence of the stability of real estate values in what may be described as the strategic points of trade, is presented in an article in the current number of the Political Science Quarterly. It is a review of the status of real estate values in San Francisco since the earthquake and fire of 1906.

It will be remembered that the destruction of property in San Francisco was more extensive and more nearly complete than that of any other large city in modern times. One has to go back to the destruction of Carthage or of Jerusalem to find anything like it. The value of buildings and contents destroyed was upwards of $350,000,000, and the total loss is estimated to have exceeded $500,000,000. The city suffered a further damage from the fact that many feared it would be subject to further earthquakes. Thus in addition to the huge actual loss, there was the incalculable injury done to the repute of the site as a place of business or of habitation.

Yet, in spite of the loss and of the handicap, and in spite of the efforts of Puget Sound ports to gain the San Francisco trade, the market value of real estate suitable for business purposes is higher now than it was before the fire. Just after the disaster there was a temporary depreciation ranging from 10 to 40 per cent in certain localities, but the rally came quickly. A recent sale of property on Market, the principal street of the city, showed that $120 per square foot is now paid for property that was sold before the fire for $104.

The recovery is due in a large measure, of course, to the enterprising energies of the people; but in the main it is due to the favorable location of the city. The peninsula that intervenes between the great bay and the ocean, is the most commerce-commanding site on the Pacific. There must be a trade center at that point.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

To Test Vaccination Rule.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Vaccination in the public schools. I will add $5 to E. J. Krause's $25 to employ lawyers to open the doors of the public schools to healthy children. There is no law on our statute books that says our School Board can bar the doors to healthy children. It is sanitation and cleanliness that has stamped out smallpox. The Health Commissioner can find enough to do in that line to keep him busy.

Bipartisan Supreme Court.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I thank you very much for your impartiality in giving the views of Republicans and Democrats on the important subject of a bipartisan Supreme Court.

I regret that Judge Timmonds did not consider the matter worthy of consideration, and that it only called forth a sneer from Mr. Shannon, who is at present managing the campaign of the Democratic party. It would seem that the only proposition which would receive favorable consideration at the hands of the "Old Guard" wing of the Democratic party would be to give them another 10 years' uninterrupted control of the Supreme Court.

However, I am glad to note that progressive papers like the Post-Dispatch are willing to stimulate independent political thought, and if I read the signs of times correctly the day is near at hand when partisanship will have no place in the judiciary of Missouri.

Vaccinating Afflicted Children.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch

My boy was sent home from school with instructions not to come back unless vaccinated. For the past three years we have been trying to get him in public schools without being vaccinated, for the reason that when he has a light fever he has several convulsions. Three years ago I went to the Board of Health and explained to them that I had had the boy operated on a few years before to prevent epilepsy, and that he was just beginning to outgrow the spasms, so was afraid to have him vaccinated. They referred me to the Board of Education. I was treated very courteously by these gentlemen, but they told me they could do nothing and referred me to the Board of Health again. I called at that office and the gentleman in charge informed me he would have the child examined. So the same gentleman called to see the child, and all the satisfaction I got from him was he said: "What difference does it make if he does have a few convulsions?" I replied, "Of course it would be nothing to you, but to me I would far rather the boy would never have any education than to see him have convulsions if I could prevent them." Trusting that someone else will become interested in this question and help us to fight against compulsory vaccination.

GERTRUDE BATTY.

Teachers' Pensions.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I wish to thank Rev. Dr. Nicolls for his timely paragraph about the teachers' pension, soon to be voted upon in this city.

If our country is great, the schools furnish the largest factor in her greatness. Back of the schools stand the grand army of teachers, mostly women, who instruct and inspire the individual and so have enlightened the thousands and thousands of our best citizens today—who gallantly acknowledge their indebtedness.

There is no question about the child being our best asset. It is to the teacher the parents look for his intellectual awakening and his education, as soon as he can attend school. So the pathos of the retired teacher must appeal to every voter.

In the early days the pioneer teachers had small salaries, for obvious reasons. There was no chance to save up for the rainy day old age was sure to bring. I know of none among them who lived for herself alone. Here a dear old mother was dependent upon her daughter, there an invalid father. The teacher's home was often the home of younger brothers and sisters. In many cases all of these were sheltered and cared for by some devoted teacher. In her busy life no thought was given to her own happiness. So her youth slipped by and she finds herself alone. No son or daughter are hers: no close home ties hold her as she held her mother or father and the children.

Is the door to the "Home for the Friendless" to open for the aged teacher, or will not the voters of St. Louis see to it that our School Board has a right, by approval of our State Legislature, to provide for these noble women, now past the age of usefulness in our public schools, with a comfortable maintainance?

A MOTHER.

No Compulsory Vaccination Law.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Will you please publish in your valuable paper if there is a compulsory vaccination law? Must the public submit to a superstition which originated in the cow stables of Europe and substantiated by Dr. Jenner and then became a scientific superstition by lying statistics. Vaccinations nets every doctor from $25 to $100 every year, first for making sore arms and then for treating sore arms. This year I had 12 sore arm cases made in the public schools. When will the citizens declare themselves free from this humbug?

Let me suggest to the biological laboratories and health boards that they experiment with animals and vaccinate or inoculate them with smallpox virus and produce the disease and then prove to us that animals vaccinated with cow pox cannot be inoculated with smallpox. These experiments to my knowledge have never been made.

DR. HERMAN W. FABER.

Billboards Hide Ranken School.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

While on the way to the aviation field Saturday, passed the David Ranken Jr. School of Mechanical Trades. As soon as I saw the building I was seized with a curiosity to know what buildings would be fenced in by tall signboards and had the name been lower down assure you that a person passing on the Page car would never know what the place was for.

Now I think a man with so generous a heart as to donate that school to that city of yours at least deserves to have it where it can be seen, instead of having it enclosed by tall signboards, with pictures advertising some of the burlesque playhouses. This matter should have prompt attention, as few have done more for your city's youth than this noble old man.

A STOCK EXCHANGE CANDIDATE.

From a Speech by Sterling P. Bond at St. Charles.

The greatest gambling mart in the world in the stocks of the world is the New York Stock Exchange, the greatest gambling mart in the world on the products of the farm is the Chicago Board of Trade, the greatest gambling mart in the world on the cotton fields and growers of cotton is the New York Cotton Exchange. The presiding judge of the district judges of New York City, which judges correspond to our Circuit Judges, recently stated that the "New York Stock Exchange is an association of gamblers." The farmers of the nation assembled in St. Louis this year for a single purpose, and that purpose was to bring about public opinion and an organization for the purpose of procuring legislation for the prevention of gambling in the products of the farm and the cotton fields of the nation.

Over the door and across the building at 214 North Fourth street, St. Louis, Mo., you will observe these signs:

D. R. FRANCIS & BROS. COMMISSION CO.
FRANCIS BROS. & CO.

Across the windows at this number, 214 North Fourth street, you will find these signs:

MEMBERS
NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.
NEW YORK COTTON EXCHANGE.
CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE.
CHICAGO STOCK EXCHANGE.
ST. LOUIS STOCK EXCHANGE.
ST. LOUIS MERCHANTS EXCHANGE.
NEW YORK COFFEE EXCHANGE.

On page 54 of the telephone directory of the Bell Telephone Co. of Missouri for the city of St. Louis you will find this reference: Francis Bros. & Co., 214 N. 4th, Main 1931 for all departments.

Adjoining 214 North Fourth street are the senatorial headquarters of David R. Francis, candidate for United States Senator on the Democratic ticket. The same number, Main 1931, will connect you with David R. Francis, member of the New York Stock Exchange, New York Cotton Exchange, Chicago Board of Trade, Chicago Stock Exchange, St. Louis Merchants Exchange, New York Coffee Exchange, and the headquarters of this candidate for the nomination of United States Senator on the Democratic ticket.

THE PEOPLE WILL ANSWER.

From the Salisbury Democrat.

The naughty St. Louis Post-Dispatch continues to ask one of the senatorial candidates embarrassing questions, but gets no answer. The people will answer Nov. 8.

NOT A PEOPLE'S REPRESENTATIVE.

From the Poplar Bluff Daily Republican.

It is common for Democrats to try to make believe that the Republican party represents the financial interests of the land and that it does not stand for the interests of the people. Such declarations were even made by Francis here Monday night. If Francis is an example of the rank and file of the Democracy to be looked to for legislation for the masses, they had better let it alone. Of course the allegations are simply political timber, but it is the wrong kind for the St. Louis capitalist and trust magnate. He does not now nor never will represent the people's interest.

A MONEY MONOPOLY.

From the Moberly Democrat.

The creation of a money monopoly will give the interests their final cinch hold on the country and is what they are trying to bring about. Instead of being regulated it would regulate. Mr. Francis' business connections and sympathies seem to be such as to prevent him occupying genuine Democratic ground. His utterances are too ambiguous and the disposition to equivocate too evident.

AN "IMPERTINENT" QUESTION.

From the Huntsville Herald.

When David R. Francis made a speech at Salisbury some weeks ago, Rev. Crowe of the Methodist church arose and asked him how he stood upon the prohibition constitutional amendment. This question embarrassed the ex-Governor, and he replied that the question was an "impertinent" one and refused to answer it. Had it been Jim Reed, Rev. Crowe would have received a straightforward and respectable answer. Jim Reed's Democracy is such that he is not afraid to commit himself flat-footed upon any public question.

REPUBLICAN SUPPORT.

From the Mexico Intelligencer.

Taking the Republic's word for it, the much-heralded Francis headquarters at Kansas City is depending on a large Republican vote to support their senatorial candidate. In the meantime, the Democrats of the State—Democrats by whom no apology need be made for their record—are lining up almost to a man for James A. Reed. The successor of Senator Warner will be a Democrat and he should be chosen by Democrats and not by Republicans.

RED TIES AND DIAMOND PINS.

Marshall (Mo.) Dispatch to the St. Louis Republic.

Francis supporters in the city are laying aside their diamond scarf pins. Francis buttons now adorn their neckties, which will be worn until after the campaign.

Club members wear red four-in-hands ornamented with Francis buttons, attractively finished. Young lady enthusiasts are wearing Francis buttons at the end of hat pins.

Two Republican Champions.

From the Glasgow Missourian.

D. R. Francis, whose character has been viciously assailed by the Post-Dispatch, has thereby secured two champions in Kansas City, the Journal and the Star, two thoroughly reliable Republican papers.

LOOKING AHEAD.

From the Toronto Globe.

Within a very few years the bulk of the milk and dairy produce coming into Toronto from a radius of 50 miles will come by trolley car or motor truck. The farmer who now spends a toilsome day hauling in his produce to town, will leave it at the trolley or motor truck depot, and one man with a modern horseless vehicle operating on a good road will do the work that now takes 20 away from the farm for a large part of the time and greatly lessens their productive power.

JUST A MINUTE.

ANOTHER CONVERT.

I.

Old Mother Hubbard
Went to the cupboard
To get her poor dog a bone,
But when she got there
The cupboard was bare,
And so the poor dog had none.

II.

When old Father Hubbard
Came home that night
The house was very blue,
And the troubled couple
Long discussed
What things were coming to.

III.

The house was cold,
And the table bare,
And when the poor dog sat
And howled as if someone were dead.
Old Father Hubbard rose and said,
"I'll be a Democrat!"

SQUARE DEAL FOR THE DRYS.

Notwithstanding what we believe to be the basic error of their position, there are of course some things in which the drys are right.

For instance:

They are complaining all over the state of the widespread distribution of Senator Stone's declaration of undying opposition to prohibition. This presupposes, so they say, that they don't know anything, and they very naturally and properly resent the presupposition. The printed assurance that Senator Stone is against prohibition and will continue in unflagging opposition to it is their notion of the superfluous, and it is ours, as well. It was this same Senator Stone who hit a B. & O. porter because he brought him too much water with his whisky.

Let's fight fair, fellows.

M. D. W.—No premium on any "shoot-him-on-the-spot" copper.

L. Y. N.—In 1889 the Veiled Prophet floats represented 22 comic operas.

B. C. D.—Bicycle license is necessary for the remainder of this year.

J. H. R.—No Banner at either place. The Standard is published in Cortland.

R. R.—See Answers Oct. 16 for aquarium cement. You may copy it at this office.

M. D. S.—You may be married without a wedding ring. Wearing a ring is merely a custom.

MEMORIALS.—Memorials are not written in this office. Rate for publication, 20c per line.

A. G.—If glasses fully correct the defect in eyesight you might pass a civil service examination.

M. A. S.—Write General Land Office, Washington, D. C., for information in regard to your right to Indian land.

DRAMA.—There is dancing after the supper is served. It is not bad form for a husband to escort his wife to it.

LADY.—Residence one year is required for person applying for divorce in California, Colorado and Washington.

JOSIE.—St. Louis is the city with the most beautiful women, though other cities claim the same thing for themselves.

WORRIED.—What an installment house can do in regard to furniture half paid for depends upon what your contract was.

CHRONOMETER.—We know of no instrument that locates gold. There is said to be one that locates ores that are near the surface.

WETZEL.—You would have to sue for wages withheld, and as the law is slow you might be delayed more than by waiting for payday.

J. S. P.—Speed of the driving pulley, multiplied by its diameter, is equal to the speed of the driven pulley multiplied by its diameter.

PARTED.—Though husband struck her and threw her out, a wife should have nothing to do with any other man unless she marries again after a divorce.

A. B.—French pronunciation of Sault Saint Marie (St. Mary's Falls), So San Ma-ree, accent last syllable, long o and long e. On the lakes it is called "Soo Saint Mary."

PETE.—Traveling man selling salve or other medicine out in the State must get license from County Collector. In St. Louis mail order business must have license if carrying stock.

B.—For dandruff: Massage thoroughly every day or apply 10 grains corrosive sublimate mixed with five ounces distilled witch hazel. If hair is falling rub crude petroleum into the scalp.

PUZZLE M. A. T.—It is not necessary for you to buy Christmas presents for the persons you mention. The gift foolishness is carried too far. A little common sense should be exercised, even for Christmas.

ANXIOUS DEE.—If your mother is sick, try to learn who is the "best doctor," regardless as to whether he is on the Board of Health. The physician who is "best doctor" for one family does not always succeed with another.

C. B. Q.—To clean kid gloves: Put them on. Put gasoline in saucer. Then wash in the gasoline as if washing hands. Take flannel rag and wipe and rub. Let dry on hands, but do not go near a fire or flame. When dry, take them off and sun them.

HOUSEKEEPER.—Remove wall paper grease spots by gently rubbing with clean flannel wet with alcohol. Or mix pipe-clay with water to the consistency of cream; lay it on the spot and allow it to remain till the following day, when it may be easily removed with a penknife or brush.

P. L. G.—Carbolated ointment for pimples and eruptions: Melt together 8 ounces pure lard and 2¼ ounces white wax and ½ ounce balsam of fir, and when it begins to cool stir in ½ ounce carbolic acid. The addition of balsam of fir to this preparation corrects the disagreeable odor of the acid and renders it slightly adhesive, which is desirable.

HELEN.—Horseradish sauce: Three tablespoons horseradish grated fine, a teaspoon sugar, one of vinegar or lemon juice and one of salt; half teaspoon dry mustard. Add two tablespoons water, bring to a boil and just before taking from fire add beaten yolks of two eggs and four tablespoons rich cream. Stir and serve hot. Mustard may be omitted if desired.

WETZEL.—Modern usage recog- [illegible] Eurasia (comprising Europe and Asia), Africa [illegible] and South America and is divided as to Australia, which is variously styled a continent and a continental island. The title Antarctic continent is sometimes given to a great body of land supposed to occupy the south polar region. Formerly Europe and Asia were accounted as two contients.

MRS. M. C.—For pickled onions use tender small white onions. Wipe carefully, cover with a strong brine, setting in cold place. After three days drain and cover with boiling brine. Put in porcelain-lined preserving kettle and cook in brine five minutes. Drain again, and cover with clear cold water for 24 hours. Drain once more, pack in fruit jars and fill jars to overflowing with scalding spiced vinegar; seal immediately. Set away for several months.

HUNTER.—For bluing gun barrel by staining, dissolve 4½ oz. hyposulphite of soda in 1 quart water, also 1¼ oz. acetate of lead in 1 quart water. Mix the two solutions and bring to a boil in a porcelain dish or stone pot. Clean the barrel free from grease, oil or varnish, warm the barrel and smear the hot solution, using a piece of sponge tied to a stick. When color develops wash and wipe dry; finish with boiled linseed oil.

E. C. H. A.—Turtle and frog are "animal meat." They are not fish; they are reptiles. The turtle is neither, fish, flesh nor fowl, yet his flesh partakes of the characteristics of all three. Eating seems a mere superfluity with him, since for weeks at a time he may be headed up in a barrel, with the bung out, and emerge after his long fast, apparently none the worse for his enforced abstinence from food, from light, and almost from air.

I. B.—It is considered bad form to order very much for an after-theater supper. A salad, a bird, or creamed oysters, with coffee or wine and ice, constitute the supper, or a welsh rarebit or lobster a la Newberg may be ordered. With the former wine is usually ordered, but no ice. It is not correct to put contents of side dishes on the plate with the meat. They should be eaten from the plates in which they are served. The gentleman should order for the lady and should serve her meat. When a salad is ordered the lady usually serves.

WILSON.—In hives there is a development of wheals (discolored ridges on the skin) of a whitish, pinkish or reddish color, accompanied by stinging, pricking, and tingling sensations, often associated with febrile and gastric symptoms. Someone says this is the only cure: Get 5 cents' worth of best cream tartar, put in china or earthen pitcher and pour over it one pint of boiling water, let stand until cool and drink during four or five times a day. Marion, Maryland writes: The best remedy I have ever known—and one that has been tried successfully in my own family many times, is castor oil used externally. It is rubbed into the inflamed parts at bedtime with the tips of gentle, skillful fingers. In severe cases a light dose of calcined magnesia is given at night and the same before breakfast [illegible]

Man's Honor Makes Trouble, Woman's Tact Saves Him,

Says Mrs. Hereford

A Discussion Between a Playwright's Clever Wife and a Post-Dispatch Representative on Feminine Mendacity.

By Marguerite M. Marshall.

"WOMEN are lacking in a sense of honor," remarked Mrs. Oliver Hereford softly, "because they prefer common sense.

Then she raised her big, widely-set gray eyes from a pensive contemplation of the folds of her old rose tea gown and smiled across at me, as one who should say, "If this be treason, make the most of it!"

I was only too willing, for at least it was original treason, so I asked her to explain.

"Why, I always agree when a man tells me that women are less honorable, less truthful, less trustworthy than the members of his own sex," she said. "I think we are all these things. And I think it's a great mercy for the men.

"It is man's wonderful sense of honor that gets him into half his troubles. It is our common sense that pulls him out.

"Women are naturally tactful. Tact and truthfulness are frequently compelled to seek a divorce for mutual incompatability. And women are always on the side of tact.

"We want to make things easy and comfortable and pleasant for the people we love. That is our strongest instinct. We don't idly drift, but we consciously and deliberately follow the line of least resistance. Why not?

"The Woman Is WISE Who Lubricates the Machinery of Her Life With the Oil of HARMLESS DUPLICITY.

"The Result of MAN'S SUPERLATIVE VERACITY Vary From a "Break" at the Dinner Table to a Break in Our International Peace Treaty. Just Patching Up These Breaks Would Keep Women LYING EVERY MINUTE.

"Tact and Truthfulness Are Frequently compelled to Seek a Divorce for Mutual Incompatibility. AND WOMEN ARE ALWAYS ON THE SIDE OF TACT.

"Sometimes Real TRUTH Means a SUPPRESSION OF FACT. Isn't It Rather Selfish to Think so Much More About ONE'S OWN SOUL Than About the Happiness of the People One Loves?

"We Don't Only Drift, but We CONSCIOUSLY and DELIBERATELY Follow the Line of Least Resistance. WHY NOT?"

"IT'S a law of physics that inanimate bodies lose a tremendous amount of force from friction. The law applies just as strongly to animate human beings. The woman is wise who lubricates the machinery of her life with the oil of harmless duplicity."

"Have you been reading Oscar Wilde's protest against the 'Decay of Lying?' I ventured to interrupt.

"Isn't it delightful?" returned the unabashed champion of mendacity. "You remember he insists that 'a short primer, When to Lie and How,' would prove of real practical service to many earnest and deep-thinking people.

"Of course," she added seriously, "I'm not advocating real dishonesty. I think that in matters of business or money a woman should be as strictly aboveboard as a man. And I believe that most women are to be trusted completely in such matters. But you know the word 'honor' isn't used in this connection unless it's qualified by the adjective 'business.'"

"How would you define honor?" I asked.

"The usually accepted definition among men seems to mean the literal, brutal, hope-I-may-die truth in every detail, on every occasion when it's going to make the most trouble. And the results of this superlative veracity vary from a 'break' at the dinner table to a break in our international peace treaty. Why just patching up these breaks would be enough to keep women lying every minute. And then, when he doesn't precipitate a smashup, the invariable truth teller is such a great bore! He makes life seem so very stupid and uninteresting.

"I THINK that real truth is always part imagination. It certainly is something more than an exact recital of facts. Sometimes—sometimes, indeed, real truth means a suppression of facts. For instance, suppose a woman is married to a foolishly jealous husband, but yet she loves him and knows he loves her. Suppose another man, an old friend, calls on her unexpectedly some day when her husband is out. If she gives a detailed statement of the fact of that call her husband may be just silly enough to make a scene that hurts both. The truth of their love is at least temporarily obscured by the stupid fact of the other man's visit. Then, surely, it's wise to suppress the fact—and keep the peace."

"But what about the moral aspect?" I suggested.

"Well—must one really consider it a sin?" she demanded. "Lots of times it's just keeping quiet or evading. And, anyway, isn't it rather selfish to think so much more about one's own soul than about the happiness of the people one loves? It's so much kinder to tell a fib now and then.

"One thing I've noticed, and that is that women are rather more honorable toward each other than they are toward men. I think there are several reasons for that. In the first place, of course, women can deceive women less easily. They know what to expect. Then each woman can tell her own lies—they don't have to lie out of kindness for each other, as they have to lie for their men folk. Then, of course, there's the element of self-protection, which frequently enters into the attitude toward the opposite sex.

"AND, finally, men like women to lie to them."

"But they say they don't," I protested.

"Oh, I know they say that," smiled Mrs. Herford, "but that's one of their own little mendacities. The first law of acquaintance, friendship, love—any sort of social intercourse between man and woman—is for the woman to keep the man guessing. Didn't the wisest poet endow his mightiest siren with—infinite variety?

"Men like to be cajoled and wheedled and managed, provided it's done with proper art. Suppose we were 'frank' and 'outspoken' and said: 'You do this,' 'You don't do that?' The men would be unhappy and so would we, for we shouldn't get what we wanted. The verbal broomstick is as bad policy as the material one.

"Sometimes, too, I've fancied that men enjoy women's lies because we're so much more clever at the business than they, poor things! We are really artistic, and they make such a botch of it! Though it isn't for lack of practice," she added, musingly.

"You say women are honorable toward women; do you think them capable of loyal friendship with each other?" I asked.

"When a woman's friendship is firm it is, if anything, more loyal than the tie between two men. Only women do not make firm friendships often, or quickly. They see too much. They are accused of being variable, but they generally have some good reason for giving up an acquaintance. My husband says the reason women have such keen minds is because they constantly change them," she added, with a twinkle.

"But, speaking generally, you think women haven't any honor and get along better without it?"

"They haven't it, in a man's degree. Personally I think it's an unpardonable thing to betray a confidence, and I wish women would educate themselves in the art of keeping a secret. But as for the rest of the so-called 'honor'—we simply can't afford it."

How to Make Better Cough Syrup Than You Can Buy

A Family Supply, Saving $2, and Fully Guaranteed.

A full pint of cough syrup—as much as you could buy for $2.50—can easily be made at home. You will find nothing that takes hold of an obstinate cough more quickly, usually ending it inside 24 hours. Excellent, too, for whooping cough, sore lungs, asthma, hoarseness and other throat troubles.

Mix 1 pint of granulated sugar with ½ pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle; then add the Sugar Syrup. It keeps perfectly. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

This is just laxative enough to help cure a cough. Also stimulates the appetite, which usually is upset by a cough. The taste is pleasant.

The effect of pine and sugar syrup on the inflamed membranes is well known. Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in guaiacol and all the natural healing pine elements. Other preparations will not work in this formula.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.—ADV.

The Seventh Day for Rest.

A WEEKLY vacation is as absolutely necessary as daily bread. The law of a rest one day in seven is hygienic, physiological and sanctioned by the approval of civilized man since history was recorded. There is something very impressive in an institution 5000 years old, if not more. The seventh day for rest is the oldest of all human institutions except the family. There would seem to be some flippancy in lightly decrying so ancient an affair.

The physicians can do their own preaching about the physical need. They themselves, often continuous workers, are the loudest in praise of what they sorely lack. They show the lack in their persons, their fidelity not stopping at sacrifice of the rest day.

To entirely eliminate business it is necessary to substitute something else. It is possible that the glorious autumnal landscape may effect this, but not all Sundays are fair of sky. The escape from business by the great thoughts of a book is easy. Surely the sublime themes of religion are grand enough to drive out the cares of the market.

Not to add any exhortation to duty which nearly all of us would acknowledge, the banishment of market cries by the notes of a grand organ, a noble hymn and a reverent throng of one's fellows would seem possible. The altar is not for the discussion of policies, nor the higher price of living. The voice that calls to man there should persuade him to forget such themes and rest his mind by visions, as when, on a sunlit day, one sits upon a cliff by the sea and dreams, or on a mountain top and gives himself to reveries.

There are themes that are big enough, inspiring enough, to be like wings and help us to forget where the shoe pinches.

He is very short-sighted who sets apart his rest day to small jobs of mending things. Can we never be free? Must we drudge all the week and then fix broken chairs on Sunday? Sunday, a day to bore ourselves with left-overs and problems too hard for the work day? Depend upon it, the immortal mind will not stand it long that way. The aspirant hopefulness of youth will decay.

The man becomes dull. No change except from work all the week to fiddlesticks all Sunday. Let the bird out of the cage one day in seven. By the hearty joys of the society of the home folk. By the lofty hopes of the soul that makes man superior to a horse. By the companionship of nature writ over with mighty lessons.

By the pages of such thinkers as have made illustrious names teaching mankind.

Not a Caruso.

CARUSO, standing with the members of the Metropolitan Opera Company on the promenade deck, conversed with the reporters genially.

"I call this boat the High C Express," he said. "What? Will the grand opera combine affect my salary? Oh, I hope not. I am rather a high-priced man, you know. I am not like young De Vere, the French tenor.

"De Vere said the other day:

"'Jove, I'm hard at it—working for all I'm worth.'

"'That's just De Vere's way of explaining,' said a friend, 'that he's earning $18 a week.'"—Detroit Free Press.

Mamma's Sad Sea Experience.

TEACHER: Now, children, it is known that cork, if sunk 200 feet deep in the ocean, will not rise, on account of the pressure of the water.

Tommy: Why, teacher, my mamma, who went to Europe last summer, said it was impossible to keep anything down while at sea!

Hard Enough.

A CAVALRY sergeant had endured the stupidity of a particularly hopeless recruit for days. The "rookie," having more flagrantly disregarded instructions than ever one morning, was admonished thus by his disguested sergeant: "Don't ever dare, you numbskull, to come at the horses from behind without speaking to them first. If you do they'd be kicking at that thick head o' yours, and then soon there'll be half the mounts of the squadron gone lame!"—Scraps.

Catches Judge Asleep.

MEN who are summoned for jury duty are ingenious in their excuses, and it often happens that the selection of a juror is the most diverting part of the case. One who was called in the County Court here complained that he was deaf.

"You say that you are deaf?" remarked the Judge.

"Eh, what is that you say?" said the man.

"I said, are you deaf?" observed the Judge in a louder tone.

"You'll have to speak louder," was the reply, "or I can't hear you."

"I guess we'll excuse you," said the Judge; "you can go."

The deaf man had no trouble in hearing the court's last remark, and sped out of the courtroom.

"I think that's one on the Judge," observed one of the attorneys.—Columbus Dispatch.

An Ancient Example.

SAMSON was carrying away the gates of Gaza.

"If you fellows have any curiosity to know what a wide open town looks like," he said to the gazers on the outside, "here's your chance."

But they took Samson for a strong arm man and fled for their lives.—Chicago Tribune.

WHEN HOUSEMOTHER GOES ON A STRIKE

UNQUESTIONABLY the most difficult detail of daily life of a woman who keeps house is maintaining her standards when she is not well. It is so desperately hard to keep herself up to time; to give as much care in ordering meals and keeping herself looking attractive. Yet, as each knows to her sorrow, if once she has given way, let her do so but for two days, the effect goes straight through the house in maids and cook, and everything goes wrong below. The coffee is not so good and the meat is not properly cooked. The waitress' apron is not scrupulously fresh and the table appointments are at right angles. This may seem an exaggerated statement to a woman who has not been through the throes of housekeeping under difficulties, but it is a statement of simple fact.

No matter how much a woman would like to give up for a time, she cannot while she remains at home. If she must relax, she must go away to do so.

The only thing for it is to stand by the job at home, just as a man does downtown through the day. He grinds away, no matter how much he may wish to give up, and it is a woman's share of life to keep the domestic side running smoothly, especially when she is married. More often than not it is the man's income that keeps the household running; that is, supplies the money. When the woman fails to use it to the best of her ability she has not lived up to her obligations. The man works and pays for a place in which to be comfortable; he supplies his wife for her own needs as much as he can afford—more than he can, usually, in this country. It probably is not as much as she wishes, but it should be a matter of honor to her to make it go as far as she can, for the best of both, and that, too, without whining. An American woman is nothing if not clever, and she can do this if she will.

When she feels well and the weather is cool the task is not so difficult. But when daily path takes on the aspect of being beset with mountains, the obstacles which loom up—of example, the incompetence of the maid or the lack of one—are really not vital, though none denies they are trying. But to grow irritated or dissatisfied is only to make it worse.

It is a wise plan to be thankful for the benefits one has, and try to be just as good a woman at the helm of the domestic ark as the man is at the financial one. In other words, a firm resolve to play a fair game, doing one's part squarely, will cause many a woman to see that her mountain is but a molehill.

Fat People Want Rest

Overfat men and women long for rest from many things; from the burden of their flesh, from dieting, from exercise, from curious glances, from fear of death by suffocation, from that feeling of shyness that obesity brings. They are deadly tired of the weary, unsocial life they are forced to lead. Many have found slimness by means of the famous Marmola Prescription. Many more will find that by taking after each meal and at bedtime a pleasant little Marmola Prescription Tablet the excess fat will be consumed and the general health vastly improved. These tablets are as absolutely harmless as the original Marmola Prescription, because they contain exactly the same ingredients in the same proportions, therefore no dieting or exercise are necessary. A reduction of a pound a day is not too much to expect from them, and you will not develop wrinkles or flabbiness with the loss of flesh. The economy of this method of harmless reduction is apparent when you learn that a generous supply of Marmola Prescription Tablets may be obtained for a little money. These little fat-reducers are sold by all druggists, or sent postpaid by the Marmola Co., 199 Monroe Av., Detroit, Mich, and the price for a large case is 75c.—ADV.

Love and Matrimony

Advice on Affairs of the Heart, Written for the Post-Dispatch By BETTY VINCENT.

MY dear girls, do not take every little attention of the men who call upon you too seriously.

Do not imagine because a man takes you to the theater once or twice that he is in love with you and wants to marry you. Plenty of men admire girls and like to go with them to parties and outings, and yet they do not care enough for the girls to marry them. And this is as it should be.

There is no reason why there should not be friendships between girls and men without any thought of love. Girls are rather too apt to attach importance to the small courtesies some young men may show them. They fancy because he likes to call occasionally that he must be in love. My dear, when a man loves you he will tell you so, and if he wants to marry you he will ask you to be his wife. In the meanwhile do not imagine his attentions mean more than they actually do.

She Is Jealous.

M. B. S. writes: "I have been calling upon a young lady frequently for about a year. I have told her I love her, but she will not admit she loves me, although she is jealous if I take any other girl out. Do you think she cares?"

She probably does care for you very much or she would not be jealous. If you persist I am sure you will win her.

To Write Him.

F. L. writes: "I saw a young man a number of times and the last time we met he asked me to write to him. I told him it was his place to write first, and he never has, nor have I seen him since. Do you think I should write?"

Certainly not. There was no real need of a correspondence, since you did not know the young man well, and met him frequently without writing. Let him seek your further acquaintance if he cares to.

A Birthday.

N. J. writes: "I have called upon a young lady frequently during the past year, and now she is soon to have a birthday. What may I give her other than candy or flowers? I like her very much."

I have repeatedly said the only correct gifts to a girl who is not your fiancee are candies, flowers or books. Books offer a wide field of choice and are always acceptable.

Two Young Men.

E. A. writes: "Two young men call upon me. One is educated and I like to talk to him, but he never takes me anywhere. The other has not a good education, but he often takes me to the theater. Which one do you think loves me the best, and which should I choose?"

It may be that neither of the young men love you, as they have never told you so. Therefore there is no reason for you to make a choice. For, as long as you are not engaged to one or the other you are entitled to the friendship of both.

Explained.

PROF. WILLIAM JAMES, Harvard's brilliant psychologist, often illustrates a truth with a story.

"The most ghastly superstition," Prof. James said recently, "has often its base in a ludicrous fact. It is like the case of Jones.

"'Jones,' said a man, 'tells me that his wooden leg pained him terribly last night.'

"'Nonsense!' was the reply. 'How could his wooden leg pain him?'

"'His wife,' the man explained, 'hit him over the head with it.'"—Minneapolis Journal.

THE LATEST STYLES IN KNITTING AND CROCHETING

The Popular "Co-ed" Idea in Sweaters.

Very few styles were ever taken up so quickly by young folks as the Co-ed coat. Its trim, jaunty, girlish lines, its dash and style made it an immediate favorite. Now here we have it in sweater form—the best possible garment to bring out the features that have made the Co-ed popular.

It is an ideal young woman's sweater, giving perfect protection and style. It is made of Fleisher's Knitting Worsted, a yarn combining the maximum of durability with a fine even thread of wonderful elasticity. It brings out all the beauty of the stitch and enables the garment to retain its shape under all conditions.

Full directions for making this and many other new and staple articles may be found in the new eighth edition of Fleisher's Knitting and Crocheting Manual, an invaluable handbook for beginner and expert. Contains a complete course of instruction in the various stitches.

VON PHUL'S PROMPT LANDING PUTS A BALLOON ON MARKET

Failure to Win Air Records Disgusts the Million Population Club.

The Million Population Club is for sale—not the hustling organization which has the stork for its motto, but the balloon bearing its name.

After S. Louis von Phul, the club's pilot, broke the record for prompt landing in the international balloon race by coming down in the wild interurban trolley district near Racine, Wis., on the main line to Milwaukee, 13 hours after sailing from St. Louis, the Million Population Club abandoned its efforts to conq— the upper and colder strata of air.

It is going to sell the balloon and invest the money in a Forest Park bridle path.

The balloon cost the club $1200, but its value is now placed at $800. Even the price is com— —own.

ILLINOIS TAKES FIRST ROUND IN $15,000,000 SUIT

Supreme Court Orders Taxation Case Against Railroad to Be Tried.

ACCOUNTING MADE

Investigation Showed Illinois Central to Owe the State a Huge Sum.

By Associated Press.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 28.—The Illinois Central Railroad Co., sued by the State for back taxes, tentatively placed at $15,000,000, has been defeated in a preliminary of the case by a decision of the Supreme Court. The effect of the decision is to send the case back to the Circuit Court of La Salle County for a hearing on its merits.

It is the contention of Gov. Deneen that for 33 years the railroad has been "milking" the State through its system of accounting for gross earnings on which it is required under its charter to pay 7 per cent to the State in lieu of other taxes.

Suit Filed Three Years Ago.

The suit was filed by the Attorney-General early in 1907 following a message from Gov. Deneen to the Legislature in which it was asserted that the railroad had so manipulated its accounts as to credit millions of its earnings to lines not chartered in Illinois and hence not subject to the 7 per cent tax. An appropriation was made by the Legislature to defray the expenses of an accounting. This accounting swelled the amount which the Governor has estimated to be due the State from $5,000,000 to $15,000,000.

The history of the suit really dates back to 1851, when the State granted a special charter to the road which provided—in consideration of a land grant of 2,500,000 acres—that the company should pay annually 5 per cent of its gross receipts, plus a property tax of ¾ of 1 per cent, which should at least be equal to 7 per cent of the gross earnings on the mileage in Illinois.

$15,000,000 Is Sued For.

It is alleged that the railroad has not only construed the 7 per cent provision as a maximum instead of a minimum, but has failed to give the State a proper accounting since 1877. The total amount in question is placed at $214,000,000, 7 per cent of which is $15,000,000.

When the State filed its bill in the La Salle County Circuit Court three years ago the railroad entered a demurrer and also demurred to an amended bill filed later by the State. The Circuit Court sustained the demurrers, issuing a decree dismissing the complaint. From this decree the State appealed and today's decision indicates that the Supreme Court finds the complaint sufficiently tenable on its face to warrant a trial on its merits. The remanding of the case means a trial on the evidence. The date for this will be determined by the La Salle County Court.

Company Wins Points.

The company wins in its contention that prior to the opening of the Deneen administration the account was closed and can not be reopened. The company also wins in the contention that the interest it draws from its bonds and money on deposit is not subject to a 7 per cent deduction in favor of the State.

A peculiar feature of the action of this court today is the filing of three separate opinions, all reaching the same conclusion and concurring, but in different manner. Hand filed a specially concurring opinion and Justices Cooke, Vickers and Farmer joined in a specially concurring opinion.

RESIDENTS WANT DOUBLE DECKED DES PERES SEWER

Will Hold a Mass Meeting and Then Call on Mayor Kreismann.

Residents of Parkview, Washington Heights and University City will hold a mass meeting Saturday evening in the Woman's Art Building to devise means of expediting the early construction of the River des Peres sewer, which they regard as a necessary sanitary step for that section.

A committee of the property owners will call Monday on Mayor Kreismann with the same end in view. They want to have a double-deck conduit built from the point where the river enters the city at the old Delmar racetrack to Lindell boulevard, with the lower channel for foul water and the upper for fresh water.

The residents say the city is making their district a little Venice. Theoretically the River des Peres is a street and appears on the city map as Des Peres avenue. It was dedicated to the city.

There are no gondolas on Des Peres avenue, the residents say, for the reason that when the water is deep it is too swift to traverse and when it is low it is so shallow that it would not float the most delicate bark.

A SQUARE DEAL

We stand on the fundamental American principle of self-government—self-government for the individual and self-government for the community. Temperance is founded upon this principle.

We concede the right of each community to determine whether it can enforce prohibition laws; whether prohibition or regulation better meets its needs and establishes the condition necessary for law and order and the promotion of public morality.

Under prohibition the liquor traffic continues underground, where vice flourishes. Intemperance is not checked, nor is the saloon abolished, but the evils of the traffic are aggravated.

BOUGHT HOT WATER BOTTLES, CHARGING THEM TO OTHERS

Many Are Now Wondering What Young Man Wanted With the Appliances.

BOSTON, Oct. 28.—Going about from one drug store to another and buying at each place a hot water bottle which he requested be charged to the name of some wealthy customer, Ralph H. Baxter of Milton, has got together quite a collection of these comfort-giving appliances.

Baxter was arrested today when he attempted to get a bottle from a Brooklyn pharmacy. He was discussing the purchase with the drug clerk when an officer who had been tipped off that the "hot water bottle" man was around, stepped in and collected him.

"I guess you've got cold feet now, all right," said Policeman John Connors. "What's the matter with you, anyway? Do you think this is going to be a hard winter?" Baxter made no reply.

FOR
RUBEROID COLORED ROOFINGS

The higher tribunal appealed to—THE UNITED STATES COURT OF APPEALS—affirms the decision of the Hon. Judge G. W. Ray, rendered January 24, 1910, in the District Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York, which holds that J. A. & W. Bird and the Flintkote Manufacturing Co. have infringed

THE STANDARD PAINT CO.'S PATENTS
Nos. 775,635 and 775,636

and finds fully in favor of RUBEROID COLORED ROOFINGS.

Here is an extract from the Hon. Judge Day's Decision which the Court of Appeals has upheld:

"The roofing of the defendants alleged to infringe is known as ZOLIUM. I think the evidence establishes that the first successful COLORED ROOFING upon the market was this COLORED RUBEROID made in accordance with the claims of the patents in suit. They are popular and have an extensive and increasing sale. They are pleasing and attractive in appearance to those who desire a colored roof and who use a roofing of this character. It is shown that these roofings are durable and serviceable, and that the coloring is permanent.

"All the constituent elements of a product, a new article of manufacture, may be old, as of course these were, but this product as a complete article of manufacture was new, and it was better than any that had gone before. The inventors did more than those ordinarily skilled in the art would do. There was mental conception, long experimentation and a valuable and a new result.

"The process pointed out in the patent which varies from the prior art was successful. The prior art was not. There is difficulty in pointing out why the one is successful when the other was not and probably all the reasons are not known, but the discovery was patentable and the defendants infringed by using it.

"I am therefore constrained to hold that both patents in suit (as to claims in issue) are valid and that defendants infringe.

"There will be a decree accordingly and for an injunction and an accounting."

This is the substance of the decision:

Existing imitations of COLORED RUBEROID are prohibited—no permanent colored roofing can be manufactured except under The Standard Paint Company's patents.

The experiments referred to by the Honorable Judge developed a number of interesting facts concerning roofing materials. These and full particulars of the original RUBEROID have been embodied in a book, entitled, "ALL ABOUT ROOFING."

DOCTORS PAY TO GET ON BOARD; PROMOTER HELD

Man Arrested Sold Physicians Stock and Promised Each a Job.

GIVES $300 BAIL

Returns $20 to One Man Rather Than Have Any Trouble.

The honor of being an examining physician for a life insurance company was the bait which Dr. P. M. Brossard of Kirkwood says F. P. Schultz, a stock salesman, held out to him and a score of other St. Louis County practitioners to whom he either sold or attempted to sell stock in the new National Rating and Credit Association of Milwaukee.

Schultz was arrested at the Maryland Hotel, where he had been stopping for several weeks, by Marshal Louis Armentrout of Kirkwood, Thursday, on complaint of Dr. R. C. Forsythe. Dr. Forsythe, whose office is at Clayton, charges that Schultz got $20 from him under false pretenses.

"He told me," Dr. Brossard said to a Post-Dispatch reporter, "that he wanted to organize a Board of Physicians in St. Louis County for the National Mercantile Credit & Rating Association. The company's connections with the insurance concerns were such, he said, that it could have this Board of Physicians appointed examining physicians. But in order for me and the others to become eligible it would be necessary for us to subscribe for 40 shares of stock at 50 cents a share.

Swallowed Hook and All.

"I swallowed the bait, hook and all. I understood from his talk that he was going to get two physicians in each township. I know about 10 others that he caught, but I will not tell their names.

"I first became suspicious when I noticed the receipt he gave me for my $20 bore no date. I mailed a letter to the National Mercantile Credit & Rating Co. They answered, informing me that F. P. Schultz had not been connected with them since Oct. 12. Previous to that time, they wrote, he had been in their employ. I bought my stock subsequent to Oct. 12.

Returns the Money.

"Schultz returned me the $20 Thursday afternoon. He said that the transaction he had with me was perfectly straight, but that since there seemed to be a question about it he would rather return me the money."

Shultz was taken from the Maryland Hotel to Kirkwood, where he gave bond in the sum of $300.

St. Louis Shoe Shipments

For the week ending Oct. 15 were 18,590 cases. Ten shoe manufacturers reported the number of pairs of shoes made during the week, 463,178. Many fill-in orders for immediate shipment of shoes required for fall trade are coming in daily.

UNION PACIFIC SELLING ITS STOCK IN COMPETING LINE

Probable Purpose Is to Reduce Liability to Sherman Anti-Trust Law.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The annual report of the Union Pacific Railroad disclosed the fact today that that system is reducing it holdings of stock in some of its competing lines, probably to reduce its liability under the Sherman anti-trust law.

During the year Union Pacific has sold 100,000 shares of Atchison preferred, 72,800 shares of St. Paul common and 6415 shares of Illinois Central. It still holds 225,000 shares of the latter stock. The company has increased its holdings in New York Central from 142,857 shares to 178,571 shares. It has sold all of its St. Paul common, though its holdings in the preferred stock remain the same.

The fact confirms the report that many of the insiders in St. Paul have sold out during the year. The Union Pacific has sold all of its stock in the Hill railroads, with the exception of 7249 shares of Northern Securities stubs, representing the unliquidated equity in the Northern Securities Co. The company earned a surplus available for common stock for the year equal to 19.17 per cent.

THIRD LEAGUE'S AGENT BUYS OLD PITTSBURG PARK

Realty Company Declares Purchasers Are Interested in American Association.

ST. LOUIS CONCERNED

Proposed Organization Said to Contemplate Placing Third Club Here.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 28.—It was announced here this morning by the United States Realty Co. that Recreation Park, on the North Side, had been sold to an agent of the new baseball league. The property secured not only takes in the old park grounds, but several dwelling houses. The consideration mentioned is $60,000.

The sale was announced just after the story given out in Chicago yesterday to the effect that D. A. Fletcher had already signed 92 players of both big leagues for his new outlaw circuit lends color to the belief that Pittsburg will be given opposition ball next spring.

The realty company says the grounds were secured by a Western capitalist, who is acting for the new league. The agent gave out the information that the circuit was to include Columbus and Toledo, O., Louisville, Ky., New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburg, Cincinnati and St. Louis.

It was hinted that the American Association is interested in the new organization and lending financial and moral support.

Several business men have been approached with the proposition to take blocks of stock in the new club.

Recreation Park was for many years used by the Pittsburg team. During the war between the National and Brotherhood leagues it was used by the Nationals.

CAYOU'S ELEVEN GEARED HIGHER

Despite the fact that some of his pet football players are bruised up for the game with Drury College team Saturday afternoon, Coach Frank Cayou of the myrtle and maroon team was pleased with the snap and ginger put into the practice Thursday afternoon. The coldness of the weather was productive of a few fumbles, but in general the plays were run off with a good deal of smoothness, much to the pleasure of the Indian coach.

The misfortune that has followed Cayou all season kept on the job. Harry Nelson, fullback, and Prensky, end, being laid up to some extent, while Rudie Abeken, who is sure to be out of the game Saturday, is still nursing the sore leg and knee. Nelson has a bad cold and Prensky is bruised, but this should not materially affect the playing of these two stars.

Jim Falvey worked at right half in Abeden's place part of the time Thursday afternoon. Weeks and Berger also were tried out, but they will hardly be of any service to the team unless someone is put out of the game Saturday.

Quarterback Heely ran the team better than he had all week, and if he maintains the same speed Saturday the eleven is apt to sweep down upon the Panthers in winning fashion.

There is little discussion as to the outcome of Saturday's battle, but the local team has considerable respect for the prowess of the Drury athletes. The team will line up just as it always has with exception of the right halfback position, which will be handled by Falvey.

"MILLIONAIRE TURFMAN" IS FINED BY PIMLICO STEWARDS

BALTIMORE, Oct. 28.—R. F. Carman, horse owner, known in the East and on the Pacific Coast, was today fined $200 by the stewards at Pimlico for alleged misuse of an owner's badge. He took offense at this action and was fined an additional $200 for using what was termed abusive and threatening language.

Carman gained some prominence, it is said, as a driver at horse shows in New York. He cut quite a figure on the coast, it is rumored, as a "millionaire horse owner from the East." He is reported to have been in trouble in Los Angles through an alleged assault on his then trainer, M. Donlin, and was fined heavily. It is also said he incurred the displeasure of the San Francisco racing officials. Carman's turf fame came through ownership of the race horse W. H. Cary.

INTERSCHOLASTIC ELEVENS TO OPEN SEASON SATURDAY

From the present outlook, in spite of the discontinuance of the regular Interscholastic football schedule, the football supremacy of the local high school teams will be decided as usual.

McKinley and Manual are the only two schools that have no teams, but the other schools have a schedule among themselves.

Western, Central, Smith, Soldan and Yeatman have teams.

Saturday Soldan High and Yeatman will clash in the opening contest at Kulage Park, and on the following Saturday the fast teams of the Central High and Western Military Academy of Alton, Ill., will meet.

Visit Busy Bee Tea Room, 417 N. 7th. Luncheons served until 8 p. m.

"Never Again" Is Reno's Attitude Toward Fights

Arena Built With a View to Future Championship Battles, Now Being Destroyed by Nevada City's Authorites.

BY ROBERT EDGREN,
A Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.

A TELEGRAPHIC dispatch from Reno says that the big fight arena in which Johnson and Jeffries met is being demolished.

This must mean that Renoites see no prospects of pulling off more world's championship affairs. They are going out of the game.

The arena was built by public subscription, and the money was collected in Reno within a couple of hours when "Tex" Rickard made known his offer from Goldfield. Under the terms of the subscription the arena was to belong to the citizens who subscribed the fund and was to be left standing after the big fight. It was then to be leased for other fights and the stockholders were to divide the profits.

But apparently there was no prospect of profits. That's the only reason for tearing the structure down. The land it occupied was well out of town, and so far as usefulness is concerned might have been somewhere in the desert.

Even if the arena was left standing, there is no championship battle in sight now that would draw two tramps and a dog from outside of Nevada. And as for Nevada, that State has had a grouch ever since the Jeffries-Jonnson fight and doesn't care to see any more fighting anyway for awhile.

No Welcome Awaits Johnson.

JACK JOHNSON says that he's going to make a "show trip" to England

Johnson is likely to find himself in trouble on the other side. English sporting people, and especially the National Sporting Club, remember Johnson's contract to return after the fight with Burns in Australia and to fight Langford. Johnson, when he became champion, very naturally didn't care to fight Langford in England. Money piled up so fast that the English purse looked like ordinary, every-day junk. Johnson would hardly stoop over to pick it up if he passed it lying on the street.

But they don't forget over there Johnson's agreement still holds him.

The best thing he can do is to go to Paris—and even there he'll find Sam McVey, who isn't altogether easy picking himself.

Will Worry Club Owners.

THE news that Daniel Fletcher, promoter of the new All-Star League, has signed up 92 star baseball players and will yank them away from the National and American leagues early in the spring is going to cause a stir among those whose divine right to baseball profits hasn't been questioned before this.

Competition may be the life of trade, but all present baseball magnates fail to see it that way. You can depend upon it that every trick of the game will be used against the new league this winter, and if it is possible to prevent its opening it will never open.

Abie the Lemon Squeezer.

ABE ATTELL made such a joke of Biz Mackey last night that the bout was stopped in the sixth round, when Mackey was nearly out. During the whole six rounds Mackey landed about a half dozen punches.

When they met last Mackey knocked Attell down and made a great showing. This is the regular Attell schedule. Fighting surely is a business with Abie. He keeps them stringing along as well as he can as long as the public will stand for the match. When he can't put over any more narrow escapes and close contests he begins to fight. And when he begins to fight the "lemons" find themselves squeezed. Abie can do an artistic job in that line.

BARNEY OLDFIELD finds his suspension by the A. A. A. to be something more than a joke after all. Now they won't let him race in Atlanta.

Oldfield was suspended for racing Jack Johnson, an unlicensed driver.

The A. A. A., if its members are of the white race, ought to give Barney Oldfield a medal. He came out as a "hope" and made good.

HERRMANN WRONG, FOGEL RIGHT, IS LYNCH'S OPINION

National League's Head Believes Quaker President Will Be Sustained.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—It seems likely that President Thomas J. Lynch and Secretary John A. Heydler of the National League will uphold Horace Fogel of the Philadelphia club in his refusal to approve the big baseball deal arranged by his manager with the Cincinnati Club. Commenting on a telegram received from Fogel, declaring that the deal was made without Fogel's knowledge and did not have his approval, President Lynch said:

"As it looks to me now, Mr. Fogel has the whip hand. No players can be released by a club without the president's signature, and if Manager Doolin made this deal without Fogel's indorsement, I don't believe it will stand. Supppose Manager McGraw should trade Mathewson to Chicago for Brown without Mr. Brush's consent, does anybody believe the deal would go through without Brush's signature?

Diplomatic Salve Needed.

"I think, however, that the controversy can be smoothed over some way and that the deal will be consummated. It is a good one for both clubs and neither has an advantage. New faces often revive interest and in the cases of Philadelphia and Cincinnati I am sure changes will prove beneficial."

"Fogel has blocked the deal in a telegram to this office," said Secretary Heydler, and in my opinion he will be sustained. A manager of a team cannot release players without the knowledge or consent of the owner."

PARENTS PREVENT KRUTSZCH LINING UP WITH CORNELL

Many of the local devotees of the greatest intercollegiate sport have wondered as to the non-appearance of the name of Armin Krutszch in the Cornell lineup this season, but it was given out by some of his intimate friends that his parents objected to his playing since the injury to his brother Erne at Manual last year in the game with McKinley High.

Armin is a former McKinley High School boy and has made good in athletics in the intercollegiate circle. He played halfback at Indiana and Cornell, gaining a reputation as a wonderful defensive player, while his ability to boot the leather has brought him considerable praise. He played half at Cornell last year in spite of the fact he only weighed 162 pounds. Besides Erne, Armin had two other football brothers who made quite a hit with the Smith Academy and Central High football teams in 1902.

Bat Nelson telegraphed Cas Welch, matchmaker of the Grand Avenue Athletic Club in Kansas City, that he would meet on the night of Nov. 14 any opponent the organization might select for him. The offer was immediately accepted.

Pittsburg Contracts for 1911 Will Have a Temperance Clause

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 28.

THE Pittsburg Baseball Club will be reorganized completely by the opening of next season. Barney Dreyfuss has ordered Manager Clark to do some lively thinking and to return to Pittsburg in December, when the work of building up a new team will be begun in earnest. It is understood that even Hans Wagner will be traded if the Pittsburg Club owners can make what they consider a profitable change.

In connection with the proposed shake-up it is known that Jack Flynn, the first baseman for whom Pittsburg paid $4000 to St. Paul, will not have another trial at first base, but will be disposed of.

The Pittsburg Club is now preparing its new contracts, which will have an iron-clad anti-drink clause. Not even a glass of beer will be allowed any of the players, which will work some hardship on some of the regulars who have been in the habit of taking two or three glasses of beer daily. This, it is alleged, made trouble among the younger players who wanted to drink, but were not allowed. Favoritism was alleged.

Tippets Gets Unearned Draw.

TACOMA, Wash., Oct. 28.—Jack Lester of Clelum and Jack Tippets, of Peoria, Ill., fought 10 rounds to a draw here last night. Lester was wild in his swings, but knocked and rushed Tippets off his feet a dozen times during the bout. Only Tippets' cleverness at blocking saved him. It was the general opinion that Lester should have had the decision.

DARTMOUTH MAY GIVE PRINCETON SECOND BEATING

Tigers Face Strongest Minor Team in the Country, in Saturday's Game.

IMPORTANT GAMES TO BE PLAYED SATURDAY

Local Teams.

St. Louis University vs. Haskell Indians, at Kansas City.
Washington University vs. Drury College, Francis Field.
Barnes University vs. De Pauw, Handlan's Park.

In the East.

Yale vs. Colgate.
Harvard vs. West Point.
Cornell vs. Williams.
Pennsylvania vs. Carlisle.
Princeton vs. Dartmouth.
Michigan vs. Syracuse.
Navy vs. Western Reserve.

In the West.

Minnesota vs. Chicago.
Illinois vs. Purdue.
Northwestern vs. Wisconsin.
Nebraska vs. Doane.
Iowa vs. Ames.

In the South.

Vanderbilt vs. Mississippi.
Georgetown vs. North Carolina.
Sewanee vs. Louisiana.

Unless all signs fail, Saturday will be the most fruitful day of football interest in the season of 1910, so far as it has unfolded. Several of the larger teams have important games; championship contests are down to be decided both in the big eight and the Missouri Valley conferences; the first clash of importance between the East and West is scheduled: while Harvard and Princeton both look to be extended in their respective battles of Saturday.

Undoubtedly the most serious afternoon of the larger Eastern elevens will be experienced by the Princeton Tigers who face the heavy Dartmouth team—an eleven that has before this beaten old Nassau.

Dartmouth this season has one of the best elevens in the history of the school. Its 39—0 defeat of Williams shows its caliber. Harvard was extended to score 21—0 against the Williams men.

Princeton has an improved eleven this year and by virtue of the coaching that is concentrated on it will make a stout resistance. But the outlook seems to be that Dartmouth will take back the bacon to Hanover.

Army Has Stout Team.

Harvard faces the Army eleven, which defeated Yale in a recent game. The victory was not sufficiently large in score to discourage the Harvard men, who have undoubtedly a great machine in the field. Harvard, this season, is warring in one particular—kicking. As this factor is a necessary one to run up good scores, Harvard will be lucky to get away with the Army by a couple of touchdowns.

The Michigan-Syracuse game may give some indefinite line on the relative strength of East and West. Michigan made a show of Syracuse last year. Syracuse this saeson held the weak Yale eleven to a 12-6 score. But Vanderbilt, a none too strong team, did better still against Yale, so the showing means little. Michigan ought to do most of the scoring Saturday.

All the "form" available has it that Minnesota will run over the Chicago maroons, although Stagg is always a coach to be wary of.

Iowa and Ames furnish the important game of the Valley Conference and it is nearly even up between these elevens.

KAUFMAN TO BOX STEWART AT NEW YORK FIGHT CLUB

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Al Kaufman, the California heavyweight, has been matched to box 10 rounds with Jim Stewart at the National Sporting Club here on Nov. 11.

Abe Attell will meet Biz Mackey of Cleveland in a 10-round fight in New York tonight. Following this fight the champion probably will take on Owen Moran and Tommy Murphy.

LACK OF HARD WORK MAY HURT BENDER'S TEAM

Injuries Prevent St. Louis U. From Holding Sadly Needed Scrimmage Practice.

Final practice for the St. Louis University football players in preparation for their game with the Haskell Indians in Kansas City, Saturday afternoon, was held on the university campus, Thursday afternoon. The work was entirely confined to signal practice. The men went through the signals with great accuracy and speed and if it were only a question of running off the plays in pretty style there would be nothing to worry about in the coming game. But Bender is decidedly bothered about the outcome. Scrimmage is the very best form of practice, and this it has been impossible to have, owing to the condition of so many of the men on the squad. He says that, in a way, the defeat last Saturday at the hands of Wabash was a good thing, as it has made the men realize that they will have to work harder, and that is what they have been doing all this week.

They will go after the Haskell game with every ounce of strength in them, but will not attempt to pull off any new plays, depending largely on the old-style, straight football.

Eighteen departed with Bender today at 2:15 over the Wabash and the hustling little coach said the minute that any man showed the least sign of weakening he would be taken from the game and one of the other men substituted. The reason for this is not so much the idea to try to win the Indian game as to keep the men from any more injuries that might compel them to be out of the Missouri game on the following Saturday.

Tips and Cues

Today's Schedule.

AT PETERSON'S—Tonight, Pierre Maupome, the Mexican champion, meets Smith in the all-comers' three-cushion exhibition games. Holdrem meets Phelan in the junior handicap tourname.t.

AT THE ROYAL—Kleth meets Boaz and Hogg in the all-comers' straight pool tournament.

AT HAUSER'S—Whitebread plays Roberts this afternoon, and Peterson plays Brown tonight in the three-cushion.

Thursday's Results.

AT PETERSON'S—Maupome defeated Farrer 25 to 21, and Calmer 25 to 20, in the all-comers' three-cusnion exhibition games. Palmer made a high run of 9, which is the record for the hall. Burke defeated Miller 60 to 54 in the junior handicap tournament.

AT THE ROYAL—Kleth beat Hart 100 to 68, and Kellum 100 to 51, in the all-comers' straight pool tournament.

AT HAUSER'S—Hall defeated Stevenson last night 30 to 28 in the three-cushion tournament.

Jimmy McLean, the Chicago Board of Trade fan, wants to bet money the attendance figures someone sent out last week as official are wrong, but he will have a hard time finding anyone who will put up any money against him, for the figures are too ridiculous for anyone to take any stock in.

WRAY'S COLUMN

WANTED: Two capable managers, one to take charge of the St. Louis Browns, one to look after H-r-ce F-g-l of the Philadelphia baseball club. Allenists preferred.

Sixty days after date Mr. Hedges promises to have some information leading to the apprehension of the unfortunate man who is to take the helm of the St. Louis American League Club. The victim has a good lead on his pursuers, but the field is being covered systematically and he will eventually have to yield.

A quiet little tip of our own is—please don't repeat this—there is no truth in the report that Connie Mack is the party in question. This is reliable.

The Eternal Feminine.

Freshmore Jr., at college football game: "Rah, Rah, Rah, Siwash! Soy, but that's great playing of Jones, wasn't it Gertie?"

Gertie, as the cortege escorts from the field the remains of what once was Jones: "I wonder why they call it 'playing' football, Mr. Freshmore?"

Freshmore, after deep thought: "Same reason we speak of 'playing' poker when sitting in a game with five men who won't come in with less than three of a kind."

Eddie Cochems' Barnes University team is rapidly rounding into form. Halfback Watts has got back into the game and it is now rumored that Mepham will soon finish his post-graduate course with the Rock Island Railroad in time to go in the fray. It is reported that Reed, too, has been able to steal a few hours away from his business in order to practice.

However foolish the president of the Philadelphia club may seem in overriding the acts of Manager Dooin of the Quaker club, especially in the matter of that trade with Cincinnati, his position in the squabble with Garry Herrmann is sound. A very loud sound, to judge by the number of words printed.

A headline Friday morning reads: "Brown Manager Not in Sight." There was an awfully blue one visible up on Palm street, St. Louis, the day after the Hedges edict.

It's painful to open an old wound, but in the light of the heavy hand that fell on O'Connor and Howell, what would you figure the proper punishment Lajoie should get for his part in that batting rally?

New Football Results.

Reading football notices from various camps Friday morning was about as interesting as conning a lost of cases at a morning surgical clinic. Just a few lines culled from various "stories:"

Yale—Francis, star goal kicker, was thrown violently, his arm being dislocated and some of the ligaments torn.

Annapolis—The back field is badly crippled. Clay is out of the game on account of a bad side, while Cochrane and Dalton retired from scrimmage on account of injuries.

St. Louis U.—All of the cripples hope to get into the game against Haskell Indians.

Kansas—"Butch" Cowell, the fighting tackle, wrenched his hip in scrimmage today and will be out of the game. Lynch is also out of the game Saturday.

Missouri—Lemire and Nowell, the two star backs of the university team, are still on the hospital squad and will probably not be in the game for some time.

At Washington—Prensky was not at his accustomed end position in Thursday's practice, owing to an injury which was aggravated Wednesday. Abeken, too, is bruised.

And these are just a few.

New football is making a hit.

Says President Butler of Columbia University: "Football is the poorest sport of all." Evidently the gentleman has not read the recently published budget of Harvard University's athletic association, which credited football with $37,000 profits on the 1909 season.

Albert Cutler is a mighty nice boy and one good billiard player. But he ought to take his cue from the following tip—Hoppe is just stringing him along.

The receipts from the first world's baseball series played by the St. Louis and Chicago clubs in 1885 was less than was paid to each member of the Athletics for the 1910 struggle.

And they talk about the "good old days!"

Short Punts

That Eddie Cochems is a hustler is shown by his conceiving the idea and immediately attempting to execute it of taking over the Wabash football schedule when they abolished the game at that institution recently. So far he has closed negotiations with De Pauw University of Greencastle, Ind. and this game will be played Saturday afternoon at Handlan's Park at 3 o'clock. The game originally scheduled for Saturday with Carleton College of Farmington, Mo., has been postponed until some time later in the season.

The Cape Normal team defeated Shurtleff at Cape Girardeau, Mo., Thursday afternoon, score 11 to 3. The boys from Alton have a pretty husky schedule to follow for such a lightweight team. They have to depend entirely on their speed, as shown in their three games with teams in St. Louis so far this season.

The Minnesota squad left Minneapolis Thursday night for Chicago where they meet the maroons Saturday afternoon. About 500 enthusiasts accompanied them.

Wisconsin and Northwestern University meet Saturday afternoon. Should Northwestern by any possible chance win, it would be the first time in 19 years.

Syracuse and Michigan meet at Syracuse Saturday afternoon. Michigan hopes to duplicate their feat of last year, when they beat the Methodists 44 to 0.

Missouri meets Oklahoma in Joplin today. Oklahoma is not of the Missouri Valley conference and has no rules on eligibility. It may be another defeat for the men from Columbia. Oklahoma has the best of the weight by at least five pounds to the man.

Princeton-Harvard Game a Probability

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 28.

"IT would not be surprising at all," said an authority on football and a close follower of the Harvard eleven this year, "if representatives of Harvard and Princeton meet Saturday night in New York and talk over the arrangement of a game for next season, at least, in an informal way."

Negotiations have already progressed so far toward bringing together the two elevens next season that nothing short of a miracle can prevent it.

Women Golfers Name President.

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—Mrs. John D. Hibbard of Homewood was re-elected president of the Women's Western Golf Association at the annual meeting yesterday. Plans for 1911 tournaments and the holding of team matches were discussed, but nothing definite was decided upon.

BAD BLOOD OFTEN INHERITED

Bad blood does not always come as the result of careless living, or indiscretions; it is a condition frequently inherited. Normal, healthy blood contains millions of tiny red corpuscles, which are the vitalizing and nourishing element of the circulation, their office being to provide every portion of the system with its necessary strength and nutriment. In weak, impure blood these corpuscles are lacking in numbers, and therefore the blood is not able to supply the proper amount of nourishment to the body. Bad blood manifests itself in many ways. With some it takes the form of skin diseases and eruptions, others become bilious and malarious, with sallow complexions, torpid liver, etc. Bad blood produces Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, and like troubles. Nothing is equal to S. S. S. as a remedy for bad blood; it is the greatest of all blood purifiers, possessing not only the qualities to cleanse and purify the blood, but composed of roots, herbs and barks that tone up every part of the system, and assist in the creation of blood nutriment. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Skin Diseases, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, Blood Poison and all other blood disorders. Book on the blood free to all. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

SHORTHAND COURSE FREE

The American Institute, a private school located at 3422 Hartford st., making a specialty of teaching "Syllabic Shorthand," has decided, in order to more thoroughly introduce this remarkable system, to offer a complete course of instruction free to the young person sending in the largest list of words derived from the words

"SYLLABIC SHORTHAND."

The sender of the second largest list will receive a credit check for $15 to apply on a course. Senders of the third three largest lists will receive a credit check for $10 each, and persons sending in the 10 next largest lists will receive a credit check for $5 each. Prizes are not transferable.

Contestants in making up their lists must number their words, and must be careful not to use in one word any letter or letters oftener than appearing in the two words, "SYLLABIC SHORTHAND."

Ambitious young people have much to gain in taking advantage of this exceptional offer. With a little effort they may obtain one of these valuable prizes, enabling them to acquire free, or at a considerable reduction, a knowledge of the most complete, comprehensive and practical system of shorthand ever devised. This contest closes Nov. 15, 1910. Address all lists to AMERICAN INSTITUTE, 3422 HARTFORD ST., ST. LOUIS. (c30)

Build Health Against the Cold

Build tissue, build nerve force; build appetite and you will probably ward off a cold altogether. But if you do take to sneezing this coming winter, it will not be serious, if you are in good condition and can rid yourself easily of the germs. Build healthy tissues that will resist the cold bacteria. Build strong nerves that rally to the support of the system. Build heart and lung force that will supply the nourishing blood and oxygen, and thus make yourself immune to the deadly colds of winter.

Build? How?

With a systematic treatment by the wonderful remedies combined in

Fruitola and Traxo

From California, the Land of Health and Sunshine

Fruitola frees the system of all impurities; Traxo restores appetite, builds tissue, and strengthens the whole system.

Fruitola cleanses without griping, pain or weakness. Traxo nourishes, stimulates and re-enforces the purified system.

One bottle of Fruitola will work wonderful results; it rids the stomach of undigested food, and easily and naturally relieves the bowels of all obstructions. If these obstructions lie in the intestines, there is danger of the much dreaded appendicitis. Fruitola soothes the bowels, relieving the congestion and inflamed condition.

Get yourself in shape now for the long drag of winter work and its various dangers to your system. Store up surplus energy. If you are already a victim to a weak stomach, torpid liver, irregular bowels or kidneys, let Fruitola and Traxo put matters right at once, as it has for thousands of others. If you have lost appetite, if your food fails to nourish or your nights fail to rest you—if you feel your grip on things slipping owing to shattered nerves, get our booklet about Fruitola and Traxo, and see what it will do, and read letters from others as to what it has done for such sufferers.

Fruitola and Traxo are sold where you buy your medicines. If not, ask the druggist to get them for you. Every wholesale druggist keeps them. Always found at Wolff-Wilson Drug Company. # HAD SCRATCHED FOR 28 YEARS

Till It Got to be Second Nature—Suffering Endless and Without Relief—Cuticura Made Skin as Clear as a Baby's.

"If I had known of the Cuticura Remedies fifty years ago it would have saved me two hundred dollars and an immense amount of suffering. My disease (psoriasis) commenced on my head in a spot not larger than a cent. It spread rapidly over my body and got under my nails. The scales would drop off of me all the time and my suffering was endless and without relief. A thousand dollars would not tempt me to have this disease over again. I am a poor man but feel rich to be free of what some of the doctors called leprosy, some ringworm, psoriasis, etc. I took ——— and ——— sarsaparillas over a year and a half but got no cure. I cannot praise the Cuticura Remedies too much. They made my skin as clear and free from scales as a baby's. All I used of them was two cakes of Cuticura Soap, three boxes of Cuticura Ointment and three bottles of Cuticura Resolvent. If you had been there and said you would have cured me for two hundred dollars, you would have had the money. I was covered with the scales but by using Cuticura I was soon as clear as any person ever was. This was over twenty-two years ago and for a long time, through force of habit, I used to rub my hands over my arms and legs to scratch, but to no purpose—I was well. I had scratched twenty-eight years and it got to be a kind of second nature to me. Dennis Downing, Waterbury, Vt., November 27, 1909."

Cuticura is the most economical treatment for affections of the skin and scalp. A cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment are often sufficient. Sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston. Mailed free, 32-page Cuticura book, an Authority on the Skin.

CONVICT RESTORES PICTURES IN STATEHOUSE; GETS PARDON

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 28.—Harry Wiedenbach, a Cincinnati prisoner, serving a four-years' sentence for larceny, won a pardon yesterday from Gov. Harmon by the excellence of his work in cleaning and retouching the historical paintings in the State House.

Wiedenbach, an artist of ability, committed the crime for which he was serving a sentence while employed in the residence of a wealthy Cincinnati resident rejuvenating his paintings. He took a valuable tapestry and sold it. He claims that love of a woman to whom he wished to make a present led him to do it.

Gov. Harmon obtained an appropriation of $800 last winter with which to restore the State paintings, and when artists heard that he proposed to have the work done by the convict they protested that the pictures would be ruined. But when he had finished his work all united in praising it.

Wiedenbach received no financial reward for the work, the money being used for materials and assistance. The work included the regilding of the frames as well as the cleaning and retouching of the canvases.

SISTER'S SCREAMS SAVE BROTHER FROM HUGE WOLF

MARSHFIELD, Wis., Oct. 28.—The screams of the 5-year-old daughter of Herman Bilgrien, who lives two miles from this city, saved the life of the former's 2-year-old son, who was being carried away by a huge timber wolf, yesterday.

The wolf entered the farmyard where the children were playing, and, seizing the boy, started for the woods.

The girl, however, ran after her brother, screaming, until the wolf was so frightened that it dropped the boy, practically unhurt.

STEEL MAKES A NEW HIGH, THEN REACTS

Stock Sells Above $80 for First Time on the Movement.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.

Steel common continued its rise in the late market and touched a new high record on the movement at 80¼. On the advance, however, heavy selling was encountered, one block of 8600 shares being conspicuous. The price broke off slightly below last night's closing and list prices showed an irregular range.

Stocks showed further improvement at the opening of the speculation today. The Steel shares and Union Pacific were the favorite issues.

London sent a range on Americans ¼@⅜ of a point above Thursday's closing. The general market abroad also shows slight improvement and moderate activity, although the money market still acts as a restraining influence.

Activity in the local market still centers in the United States Steel stocks. The company's report of earnings shows a surplus available for dividends in the last five years of 11.6 per cent.

The possibility of labor troubles involving the leading express companies has not been reflected adversely in the interested securities.

Professional sentiment is again veering towards the bull side, owing to the manipulative tactics of the so-called inside interests, but the general commission house demand outside of New York is light. There has been some distribution of securities in the past two weeks by banking interests, and this with the elimination of a large short interest, has weakened the market's technical position. The political situation should have some minor effect on prices in the next week, as much stock will no doubt be marketed to avoid the uncertainty of carrying it over the election.

DETAILED REPORT OF DAY'S TRADING ON WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Prices of stocks started upwards today on a brisk opening demand. The gains extended to substantial fractions in Union Pacific, New York Central, Denver & Rio Grande, Erie first preferred, Consolidated Gas, Colorado Fuel and General Electric. National Railways of Mexico seconds preferred rose 1, and American Sugar 1⅛.

A sudden break of 1¾ in American Smelting caused a general unloading elsewhere and prices generally dipped below yesterday's closing. Later extensive buying in United States Steel, which rose from 79⅝ to 80¼, brought about a general recovery to the opening figures. Prices fell back again at the end of the hour. Allis-Chalmers preferred rose 2, Soo Line 1¾, Northeastern and International Harvester 1¼ and Wabash preferred and Pittsburg Coal preferred 1. Hocking Valley opened 15 points off and Toledo, St. Louis & Western preferred 1.

The stock market was affected by realizing sales. The sustaining effect of the advance in United States Steel was used for that purpose. A sharp relapse resulted. Solicitude for the future of the money market prompted some selling of stocks. United States Steel, Reading, Missouri Pacific, Amalgamated Copper and several others fell 1 below yesterday's closing. Southern Railway preferred and Pressed Steel Car 1¼, Sloss-Sheffield Steel 2½, and Bethlehem Steel preferred 3¼. Bonds were irregular.

Fractional recoveries seemed to have exhausted the buying movement for the time being, speculation becoming stagnant.

Additional slight advances were made during the course of the early afternoon, but the market failed to get up to last night's close. Hocking Coal sagged 1¼. American Ice 1¾ and Bethlehem Steel and United States Rubber 1.

DUN'S REVIEW.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Dun's Review tomorrow will say:

Bank exchanges this week again make a rather indifferent comparison with last year, the total at all leading cities in the United States aggregating only $2,823,403,198, a loss of 11.0 per cent. This loss, as usual, is due in greater part to the decreased volume of exchanges at New York City, where there is a decline of 15.9 per cent, for the majority of cities outside that center report gains and there is an increase in the total of the cities making returns of 0.6 per cent. The comparison with the active year 1906 is still more satisfactory, there being an increase this week over that year of 5.7 per cent, of which 2.6 was at New York. The return this week exhibits some irregularity, notably at Pittsburg, where there is a small loss compared with last year, but pronounced gain over 1906; similarly at Chicago and Kansas City, while at Louisville and San Francisco exchanges are considerably larger than last year, but show marked losses compared with 1906. Baltimore, Cleveland, St. Louis and New Orleans report very satisfactory gains over both years.

CHINESE LOAN.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—An American loan of $50,000,000 to the Chinese Government has been consummated, it was learned here today. The group of bankers interested in this loan consists of J. P. Morgan & Co., Kuhn, Loeb & Co., the National City Bank and the First National Bank. The agreement as to the amount of the loan rate of interest and terms, it is stated, was signed in Pekin yesterday by Daniel A. Menocal of the International Banking Corporation on behalf of Willard D. Straight, former United States Consul-General at Mukden, now agent of the syndicate in China, but who has been in this country for several months.

The bonds will be Chinese Government bonds and will bear interest at 5 per cent, and it is expected they will be offered here and in European countries at par.

COPPER MARKET.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—On the recent copper buying movement the United Metals Selling Co. was the principal seller, disposing of well over 50,000,000 pounds before its price was advanced to 12⅝c. Other agencies had sold ahead until about the first of December and advanced their prices to a ⅞c basis, but the largest agency remained for some time at ⅝c and scooped most of the business current. Bulk of the buying was for export and delivery in January, February and March. The United is now quoted at 13c, and there is little metal about at 12⅞c, with all sellers holding back on distant delivery contracts.

LIQUIDATION IN CANDY COMMON A MARKET FEATURE

Price Drops a Full Point on Active Transfers at $19.

ST. LOUIS CLEARING HOUSE STATEMENT.

| | Clearances. | Balances. |
|---|---|---|
| Today | $12,202,681 | $897,571 |
| Last week | 13,644,293 | 967,072 |
| Decrease | $1,441,612 | $69,501 |

Liquidation in National Candy common that carried the price of a full point from $19.87½ to $19 was the feature of the local stock trading Friday. In all, about 250 shares changed hands, mostly in small lots. The stock closed weak, with offers at $19.25.

In brokerage circles the selling at attributed to an unsuccessful bull pool, which formerly operated in the stock, and were unfortunate enough to be interested in United Railways preferred when the dividend was passed. Some talk has been heard of a reduction coming in the dividend, but this is not credited in influential circles.

Railways preferred was also weak and lower, losing a point on sales at $42.25 and $42. At the close the stock was wanted at $42.37½. Railways 4s were active and steady at $78.75.

The bank list was quiet and firm, with offerings light. Bonds were steady throughout.

ST LOUIS MONEY MARKET.

There have been conflicting currents in the local money market during the week just closing. Time demand funds have been plentifully offered at lower quotations; the rates for long-time accommodations have stiffened to some extent, and this has operated against very large transactions at certain institutions. Others, on the contrary, have reported less of an inquiry from their clients, and rates have remained steady at 5 and 5½ per cent for all datings. Collections have been reported as fair.

RAILROAD EARNINGS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Gross earnings for 12 standard railroads in August stood at the highest level since the record figures preceding the panic of 1907; in fact, they were the highest for that month in the history of these 12 roads. Actual gross, as reported, amount to $79,223,241, as compared with $72,473,017 in July and $74,812,479 in June. This further compares with $69,518,765 in August, 1909, $65,390,241 in 1908 and $76,103,500 in 1907. This last figure had stood as the record for the month.

In the 10 years ended June 30, 1910, the average gross earnings of these 12 roads in the month of August was $58,374,795, so that the actual earning for August, 1910, was 35.72 per cent above the 10-year average. This compares with 19 per cent in the preceding year, 12 per cent in 1908 and 31 per cent in 1907.

ERIE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Now that the Erie has demonstrated, under the capable management of President Underwood, its ability to earn surplus earnings of over $5,000,000, the question of financing loans to take up maturing obligations as well as paying off the advances made by its bankers, is no longer a difficult problem. The advances that the different Erie securities have had within the past month reflects the confidence that the property has left all but the remembrance of the trying period of 1907 and 1908 far behind and is now facing a much brighter future than it has at any time in its history. As for dividends on any of its three classes of shares, that is a prospect which is still some years off. The Erie has in the neighborhood of $18,000,000 in loans maturing between now and April 1 next, and until they are canceled it will not have a clear road ahead.

AMERICAN SMELTING.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Wall street has the rumor that the stockholders of the American Smelting and Refining Co. will be given the privilege of subscribing for a new bond issue at par. The issue will be a straight debenture bond of the American Smelters Securities, bearing 6 per cent interest, to run 15 years. The bonds will be convertible into the common stock of the American Smelting Co., probably within seven years. The exact time has not yet been fixed. Provision has already been made for the underwriting of the issue by a prominent local banking house. It is expected that a meeting of the stockholders of the American Smelters Securities Co. will be called soon to ratify the proposition.

NATIVE CATTLE—Receipts dropped off materially today. Doubtless the recent weakness in the market had a great deal to do with this. The supply in the native division amounted to 1300 head, and a part of these were billed through to the East. The quality of salable offerings was in the main quite ordinary. The best native steers offered brought $5.85, and a string of Westerns sold for $5.15. Generally the steer market proved active, with prices fully steady, and in some instances a little stronger. She-stuff, bulls and calves were in limited supply, and they also sold well, an early clearance being effected.

SOUTHERN CATTLE—The run totaled only 700 head. A couple trains of Oklahoma grass steers sold at $4.60 to $4.80. The market was fully steady with yesterday, and a quick clearance was made on everything offered. One train was late getting in. Had it not been for this, the market would have been over by 10 o'clock in the morning. Not many Arkansas or Mississippi cattle arrived and what were offered brought steady prices

HOGS—Although there was but a small supply of hogs on sale today, prices were off 15c as a rule, with some of the plain heavy grades showing a greater loss. It was a draggy market, as sellers did not like to part with their holdings on a lower basis when the supply was so small. The top of the market was $9.05 for several loads, against $9.15 yesterday, while the bulk sold from $8.75@8.95. Packers were slow to enter the market and at noon had made but few purchases. Packers were bidding 25c lower on the plain grades, and it looked at noon as though their offers would have to be accepted. Plain mixed packers sold from $8@8.40; medium good packers, $8.50@8.75, and good shipping and butcher hogs from $8.80@9.05. Little pigs under 100 pounds were slow sale, as the demand was not very good for them. The market closed on a weak basis, with a few hogs unsold.

HORSES AND MULES—The horse market showed little activity throughout the day. There are no horses left in first hands and the dealers are all pretty well cleaned up of their week's offerings. Fresh receipts for the day approximated 25 head. The mule market was fairly active on nice, fat cotton mules. The market was slow and draggy on all other kinds. Prices remain firm and strong on the best grades of cotton mules. Fresh mule receipts for the day approximated 25 head.

BEAR TRADERS HAVE ADVANTAGE IN GRAIN PIT

Speculation Is Quiet, but Market's Tendency Is Downward.

There was nothing of importance in the grain news today to influence sentiment either way, and the pit element made the market. Outside speculation was conspicuously absent throughout the session.

Apparently the only bull influence in the situation at present is the falling off in primary receipts. At the moment, however, this important factor is being ignored by the trade, just as the heavy receipts were ignored when prices were 10c higher. But the decline ultimately came. Some traders assert that the light movement now ignored will have weight later on, just as the heavy movement did.

Liverpool reported Thursday's American firmness offset by the continued favorable weather in the Argentine, where prices were lower. Spot wheat in Liverpool is weak and generally 1d lower, and the forecast is for world's shipments, exclusive of North America, at 2,000,000 bu over last year, with large supplies from Russia and the Danube. Liverpool stocks are large and there is a pronounced shortage of storage room. The Australian report and slight demand for cargoes caused a late small rally in the foreign market.

Broomhall cables: "Our Austrian agent says that owing to crop damage by frost and otherwise, estimates of the crop are being reduced 14,400,000 bu from last year, when total yield was 70,000,000 bu."

Australian wheat shipments this week, 618,000 bu, against 40,000 bu last year. Indian shipments, 536,000 bu, against 80,000 bu last year.

Argentine shipments for the week show:

| | This Week. | Last Week. | Last Year. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Wheat | 968,000 | 840,000 | 144,000 |
| Corn | 4,888,000 | 3,689,000 | 650,000 |

Wheat shipments Jan. 1 to date, 66,256,000 bu, against 92,840,000 bu last year. Corn shipments, 78,289,000 bu, against 77,049,000 bu last year.

Broomhall estimates the world's shipments of wheat for the week, exclusive of North America, at 12,400,000 bu, against 10,288,000 bu last week, a total of 13,344,000 bu last year and 9,172,000 bu in 1908.

Liverpool corn was weak and lower on poor spot demands and heavy Argentine shipments. Argentine grain traders are decidedly wide awake and are marketing their corn in advance of the enormous American harvest. The local market was quiet but steady in the face of a slightly improved speculative demand.

Minneapolis cars of wheat today were 357, against 133 last week and 490 last year. Duluth had 133 cars, against 111 last week and 322 last year. Winnipeg, 601 cars, against 526 last week and 581 last year. Minneapolis wheat stocks increased 285,000 bu for the week.

Chicago wheat receipts today, 99,600 bu, against 75,000 bu last year; shipments, 31,400 bu, against 81,681 bu last year.

Kansas City wheat receipts today, 114,000 bu, against 270,900 bu last year; shipments, 181,200 bu, against 129,150 bu last year.

Total primary receipts of wheat today, 969,854 bu, against 1,400,154 bu last year; shipments, 1,196,967 bu, against 491,377 bu last year.

Local wheat receipts today, 85,530 bu, or 369 sacks, 62 cars local, 15 through; last year, 132,507 bu, or 3718 sacks, 108 cars local, 21 through.

Local corn receipts today, 26,800 bu, or 160 sacks, 22 cars local; last year, 17,040 bu, or 216 sacks, 9 cars local, 6 through.

Local oats receipts today, 78,200 bu, or 38 cars local, 8 through; last year, 75,200 bu, or 43 cars, local, 4 through.

Liverpool spot wheat closed ½@1d lower, futures ⅛d lower. Spot corn, ¾@1d lower, futures ⅝@⅝d lower. Paris wheat, 1@1½c lower; flour, ½@2½c up. Antwerp wheat unchanged, Berlin ⅝c lower and Budapest ⅜c lower.

Minneapolis wires: "Very good demand for cash wheat. Millers buying freely and are strong for choice offerings."

Snow says conditions have favored fall plowing in the Northwest and a larger percentage than usual has been accomplished. This means early seeding and good seed bed for spring wheat next year.

New York wires: "There seems to be no export demand for wheat near present prices and corn demand has fallen off decidedly on account of the large Argentine shipments."

Bradstreet's export figures showed:

| | Wheat and Flour. | Corn. |
|---|---|---|
| This week | 3,428,000 | 507,000 |
| Last week | 2,845,000 | 819,000 |
| Last year | 4,200,000 | 516,000 |
| Two years ago | 5,463,000 | 197,000 |

Shipments of wheat July 1 to date, 32,636,000 bu, against 47,317,000 bu last year, decrease 14,781,000 bu. Corn shipments, 5,209,000 bu, against 2,508,000 bu last year, increase 2,506,000 bu.

Clearances of wheat and flour today, 160,000 bu; of corn, 194,000 bu; of oats, 3000 bu. Duluth stocks of wheat decreased 1,200,000 bu for the week.

The moderate movement to market and the steady tone in corn were reflected in oats. Speculation in this grain, however, was quiet.

Cash wheat dull; good milling scarce. Soft winter and choice, 1c up; low grades draggy and quiet.

Cash oats slow and easy to ½c lower on white. Local and shipping demand fair.

Cash corn ½c lower and dull. Only local demand.

REALIZING SALES CHECK EARLY ADVANCE IN COTTON

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The cotton market opened steady at an advance of 1@5 points on continued covering and fresh buying, encouraged by the materialization of the predicted heavy frosts or freezing temperatures in the Southwest and a sharp advance in Liverpool just before the opening of business here. There was heavy realizing on the advance, however, and after the first few minutes the market eased off to a net loss of about 10@12 points under these offerings and selling for a reaction. Business was active at the decline.

The Western belt forecast, calling for continued cold weather tonight, with rising temperature tomorrow, was followed by a rally of 6 or 7 points, but there was continued heavy realizing, and with some of the local spot people sellers prices eased off again to a net loss of about 15@16 points during the late forenoon. At midday the market was still nervous and unsettled at a recovery of 3 or 4 points from the lowest. The closing was irregular.
